Criteria C – Emergent

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
i. Vocabulary	A few keywords are used, but the vocabulary tends to be repetitive/formulaic.	The use of one basic connective/opinion may be attempted. There may not be time phrases or adjectives used. There may not be full sentences used and vocabulary may be repetitive.	Sometimes a few basic connectives and opinions may be used. Limited time phrases and adjectives may be used. A few full sentences with basic vocabulary may be used.	A few basic connectives and opinions may be used. Limited time phrases and adjectives are used. Some full sentences with basic vocabulary may be used.	Some basic connectives and justified opinions may be used. A few times phrases and adjectives are used. Full sentences with varied vocabulary are sometimes used.	A few complex connectives and justified opinions may be used. Sometimes phrases and adjectives are used. Full sentences with a range of vocabulary are often used.	Some complex connectives and justified opinions are used. Sometimes phrases and adjectives are used. Full sentences with a range of vocabulary are used.	Several complex connectives and justified opinions are used. Several time phrases and adjectives are used. Full sentences with a wide range of vocabulary are used.
ii. Grammar	At least 2 conjugations of 2 different verbs attempted, sometimes successfully. Allow errors in gender/number and irregular verbs. Errors frequently hinder communication.	At least 2 conjugations of 2 different verbs successful. Allow errors in gender/number and most irregular verbs. Errors in often hinder communication.	Use of present tense generally successful. Allow errors in gender/number and some irregular verbs. Errors in may hinder communication.	Use of present tense generally successful. Another verb tense is attempted. Allow some errors in gender/number and uncommon irregular verbs Some errors may hinder communication.	2 verb tenses are used sometimes successfully. Allow some errors in gender/number and some uncommon irregular verbs Some errors, but they don't hinder communication.	2 verb tenses are used successfully. Some complex grammar structures may be attempted/used. A few errors in gender/number – some uncommon irregular verbs Some errors, but they don't hinder communication.	2 verb tenses are used generally successfully and a 3rd verb tense is attempted.. Some complex grammar structures are used. Very few errors in gender/number – some uncommon irregular verbs Some errors, but they don't hinder communication.	3 verb tenses are used generally successfully.. Complex grammar structures are used. No errors in gender/number – or irregular verbs.
iii. Pronunciation and intonation	The candidate's use of pronunciation and intonation often hinder comprehension.		The candidate's use of pronunciation and intonation sometimes hinder comprehension.		The candidate's use of pronunciation and intonation rarely hinder comprehension.		The candidate's use of clear pronunciation and intonation make communication easy to comprehend.
iv. Communication, interaction and organisation	The candidate communicates very limited information which often isn't organised and hinders communication. The candidate rarely understands the questions asked. Responses are very brief and rely heavily on prompts.	The candidate communicates limited information which often isn't organised and hinders communication. The candidate often doesn't understand the questions asked. Responses are brief and rely on prompts.	The candidate communicates some relevant information with limited organisation. The candidate sometimes understands the questions. Responses are very short and often require prompts.	The candidate communicates some relevant information with some organisation. The candidate usually understands the questions. Responses are short and often require prompts.	The candidate communicates most relevant information which is usually clear and organised. The candidate understands the questions. Responses are developed and may sometimes require prompts.	The candidate communicates most relevant information which is clear and organised. The candidate understands the questions. Responses are developed and sometimes require prompts.	The candidate communicates almost all relevant information which is very clear and organised. The candidate understands the questions and usually provides developed and sometimes spontaneous answers.	The candidate communicates all relevant information which is very clear, organised and effective. The candidate understands the questions and provides developed answers.