BANANA SPICED SMOOTHIE

Serves 1

Bananas are high in potassium which along with many other benefits, helps muscles to contract and regulate your heartbeat, as well as helping relieve anxiety and stress! Which is why my delicious and easy banana spiced smoothie packs the perfect punch.

INGREDIENTS

Spice mix*
2 tsp chia seeds
1 vanilla pod
3 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt
200ml (7fl oz)
unsweetened soya milk OR
unsweetened pea milk
1 ripe banana, chopped
handful of ice cubes

*TO MAKE THE SPICE MIX:

Pinch of cinnamon
Pinch of allspice
Pinch of ground ginger
Pinch of ground cloves
Pinch of ground cardamom

METHOD

First make the spice mix. Place all the spices in a bowl and mix together thoroughly.

Add half the chia seeds to the bowl, then slice the vanilla pod in half with a sharp knife and scrape the seeds in. Mix together thoroughly.

Place the yogurt, soya/pea milk and banana in a blender and blitz until smooth. Add the spice mix along with a handful of ice cubes and blitz again.

Pour the smoothie into your favourite tall glass or 'on the go' bottle and enjoy!

Drop the empty vanilla pod in some boiled water to make vanilla tea.

BANOFFEE ICE CREAM

Serves 1

This is the easiest, healthiest, quickest ice cream in the world to make! I'm a big fan of Greek yogurt as it tends to have more protein and less sugar than regular yogurt. You do need to use frozen banana for this recipe but it only takes a couple of hours to freeze at the most.

INGREDIENTS

1 banana, sliced and frozen
3 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt
6 pecan halves, crushed

METHOD

Place the banana in a food processor with the Greek yogurt and blitz until smooth, then fold three-quarters of the crushed pecans into the mixture.

You can serve this straight away but it will be quite soft. If you prefer a firmer texture, place it in the freezer for around 30 minutes but keep checking and stirring so it freezes evenly and stays creamy.

Serve in your favourite glass or dish and sprinkle the remaining pecans over the top.

This really is all about timings, so don't let your ice cream over freeze as it won't taste as good!

BANOOKIES

Serves 1

What are Banookies? Cookies with a difference – that’s what! These are packed full of healthy protein and are delicious served warm or cold. Stored in an airtight container, they’ll keep for a couple of days, if you don’t eat them first!

INGREDIENTS

handful of chopped banana

½ serving (40ml; 1 scoop) of The Six Pack Revolution Decadent Chocolate Caramel Post Workout Smoothie

6 hazelnuts, chopped

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4) and line a baking tray with parchment paper.

Place the banana in a bowl and mash thoroughly with the back of a fork until you have a wet consistency. Mix in the smoothie powder and chopped hazelnuts to form a thick batter.

Using a spoon, drop cookie-sized amounts of the batter onto the prepared baking tray, evenly spaced apart, and bake for 15–20 minutes. Check regularly to make sure they don’t burn.

Remove from the oven and leave to cool on the tray for at least 10 minutes, then transfer to a cooling rack.

Enjoy!

BLACKBERRY AND COCONUT SMOOTHIE

Serves 1

This is an old favourite of mine; you can see at a glance it's extraordinarily simple, but the full-on flavour of the coconut combined with the fruit has a gratifying complexity. The addition of coconut adds essential nutrients and healthy fats to your diet.

INGREDIENTS

200ml unsweetened 200ml
(scant 1 cup) unsweetened soya (soy) milk or
unsweetened pea milk

3 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya (soy)-
based vegan yogurt

handful of frozen
mixed berries

2 tsp desiccated
(flaked) coconut

METHOD

Add the unsweetened soya or pea milk, the yogurt, and the berries to a blender and blitz until smooth.

Add the coconut, a handful of ice and blitz again.

Pour into a tall glass or your "on the go" drinks bottle and enjoy this smoothie as your breakfast or as a snack.

Use frozen mixed fruit from the supermarket, still packed full of nutrients and is often cheaper!

BOILED EGGS AND SOLDIERS

Serves 1

I love to eat this simple breakfast on a Sunday morning while reading the weekend paper and generally indulging in some family time! Eggs are of course an excellent source of protein and the asparagus is not only packed with free-radical fighting antioxidants, but is also low in calories and beneficial for those who need to keep an eye on blood sugar levels/blood pressure.

INGREDIENTS

2-3 eggs
1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
Handful of asparagus
Black pepper to season

METHOD

Bring a pan of water to the boil and cook the eggs for approximately 6–8 minutes, depending on how you like them. If you like a runny yolk and wobbly white, 6 minutes should do it.

A minute longer will set the white and by 8 minutes, the yolk will start to set too.

Meanwhile, heat the oil in a non-stick frying pan or griddle over a medium to high heat. Once the oil is lightly sizzling, lay the asparagus spears in the pan and cook, turning frequently, until they soften and char slightly.

Using a small spoon, slice the top off the eggs, season with some black pepper and dunk away!

Don't over-cook the asparagus as they will lose their essential nutrients and they will be impossible to act as soldiers for your eggs!

BOMBAY MIX

Serves 2

These roasted, slightly crunchy, spice-coated chickpeas are the perfect healthy version of Indian Bombay mix and ideal for snacking at any time of day. Many studies have shown that the sensory pleasures we experience from the taste of food can be a big factor in determining how much we eat, which is why I love spices so much – they're guaranteed to satisfy our tastebuds and provide a sense of satiety.

INGREDIENTS

400g (14oz) can of chickpeas, drained and rinsed
½ tsp cumin seeds
½ tsp fennel seeds
½ tsp mustard seeds
2 tsp unsalted peanuts
handful of raisins
1 tsp pine nuts
1 tsp curry leaves
1 tsp curry powder
1 tsp garam masala
½ tsp chilli powder

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 160°C (140°C fan/325°F/Gas 3) and line a baking tray with parchment paper.

Pat-dry the chickpeas with kitchen paper to remove all excess moisture, then place in a bowl with the cumin, fennel, and mustard seeds and toss to ensure the chickpeas are thoroughly coated.

Transfer the chickpeas to the prepared baking tray and spread out evenly.

Bake in the oven for 25–30 minutes, then remove and add all the remaining ingredients. Stir to mix well before returning the tray to the oven. Cook for a further 10–15 minutes, then set aside to cool.

Enjoy!

CARROT CAKE SHAKE

Serves 1

This shake is thick and creamy and tastes just like a slice of one of my favourite cakes, but without any added sugar. Full-fat Greek yogurt is one of my go-to ingredients as it's full of vitamins and minerals (especially calcium) and protein, plus the probiotics are essential for a healthy gut.

INGREDIENTS

½ large orange, peeled and segmented (fresh or frozen)

½ banana, sliced (fresh or frozen)

2 tsp desiccated coconut

6 pecan halves, chopped

½ medium carrot, grated

2 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya (soy)-based vegan yogurt

200ml (7fl oz)
unsweetened soya milk

½ tsp ground cinnamon

small handful of ice
cubes (optional)

METHOD

Place all the ingredients in a blender and blitz until smooth. For a lighter consistency, you can add a little more soya milk or water.

Pour into your favourite glass and enjoy.

CHEESY TOMATO QUICHE

Serves 2

A playful nod to this seventies classic, reimagined with a crispy wholemeal wrap base. Eggs and cottage cheese deliver protein and healthy fats, while spinach and cherry tomatoes add a vibrant burst of colour and nutrition. Light, balanced, and the perfect way to enjoy a retro favourite.

INGREDIENTS

4 eggs
2 tbsp full fat
cottage cheese
handful spinach
4 cherry tomatoes, chopped
Pinch of chili flakes
2 wholemeal wraps

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4).

Beat the eggs well and stir in the cottage cheese, spinach, chopped cherry tomatoes and chilli flakes.

Place each wrap into an individual oven proof dish so the edges overlap.

Gently pour the egg mixture into the wrap, so it acts as a bowl.

Place the dishes in the oven and cover with foil to stop the wraps from burning.

Allow to cook for 35 minutes, removing the foil for the last 5 minutes.

Carefully remove your quiche onto a plate and enjoy!

CHERRY AND VANILLA SHAKE

Serves 1

You don't need to wait until cherries come into their short season, you can enjoy this super easy shake all year round by using frozen cherries. You may have noticed that many of my recipes, especially my shakes and smoothies, contain chia seeds. These tiny little super seeds are now readily available in most supermarkets and can be stored in the cupboard and added to any meal to provide an abundance of nutrition to your daily diet!

INGREDIENTS

handful of pitted
frozen cherries

3 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya (soy)-
based vegan yogurt

200ml (scant 1
cup) unsweetened
soya (soy) milk OR
unsweetened pea milk

2 tsp chia seeds

1 vanilla pod

METHOD

Put the cherries, yogurt and soya or pea milk in a blender and blitz until smooth.

Add the chia seeds and the vanilla pod seeds (scrape these out of the middle of the pod by scoring then scraping with a knife), then blitz again until completely smooth.

To cool the shake, add some ice and blitz until crushed.

Pour into a tall glass, top with a cherry, and enjoy or have as an on-the-go breakfast or snack.

Because most frozen fruits are frozen shortly after they are harvested, they're allowed to fully ripen, which means they're packed full of vitamins and antioxidants as freezing them 'locks all the goodness in'.

Drop the empty vanilla pod in some boiled water to make vanilla tea.

COTTAGE CHEESE WITH BLUEBERRY AND COCONUT

Serves 1

I love this quick and easy recipe. Blueberries are low in calories but high in nutrients and while the cottage cheese in this dish may seem a strange addition, surprisingly it's a combination that works. The flavour of the coconut makes this wonderfully simple recipe come alive, so give it a go and try something a little different.

INGREDIENTS

3 tbsp full-fat
cottage cheese
handful of blueberries
2 tsp desiccated
(flaked) coconut

METHOD

Add everything to a bowl and serve.

Don't be tempted to buy 'fat free' as it is likely that this will be packed full of sugar and will contain none of the healthy good fats that full fat cottage cheese contains.

COTTAGE CHEESE ON RICE CAKES

Serves 1

This snack is as pretty as a picture and packed full of nutrients. The green goodness that is avocado contains more potassium than a banana, and the pomegranate seeds are stuffed full of antioxidants.

INGREDIENTS

½ avocado, thinly sliced
2 rice cakes
3 tbsp full-fat
cottage cheese
pomegranate seeds,
to garnish
chopped chives, to garnish

METHOD

Lay the avocado slices on top of the rice cakes and spoon the cottage cheese on top. Sprinkle over the pomegranate seeds and some chopped chives – delicious!

If you are taking avocado to work prepared as part of your lunch. You can stop it from turning brown by gently brushing with a little lemon juice and place in an air-tight container.

EATNO MESS

Serves 1

This is my own take on the famous pudding Eton Mess, and is a tasty way to eat fresh strawberries without adding that roguish topping of sugar! Pistachios are packed with antioxidants and nutrients and add a delicious crunch.

INGREDIENTS

handful of fresh strawberries, sliced

3 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya (soy)-based vegan yogurt

8 unsalted pistachios,
chopped or crushed

METHOD

Place the strawberries in your favourite glass dish and mix in the yogurt. Top with those all-important pistachio nuts and enjoy!

EGG AVONNAISE ON RYVITA

Serves 1

Eggs are fantastic as they're rich in protein and contain all 9 essential amino acids, yet mixing them with store-bought mayonnaise can downgrade the overall nutritional value of your meal. Therefore, this recipe replaces the mayo with avocado and Greek yogurt, which in my opinion is a masterstroke! With this substitution, you get all the creaminess of mayo, yet with heart-healthy unsaturated fats instead of saturated. I guarantee you won't miss the mayonnaise one bit.

INGREDIENTS

2–3 eggs
½ avocado
1 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt
squeeze of lemon juice
1 tsp fresh chopped chives,
plus a little more to garnish
pinch of fresh garden cress
2 rye crispbreads freshly ground black pepper

METHOD

First boil the eggs. Bring a pan of water to the boil and cook the eggs for about 8 minutes – you want them to be hard so you can mash them. After 8 minutes, immediately transfer the eggs to a bowl of cold water to stop them cooking.

In a bowl, mash the avocado and combine with the Greek yogurt, lemon juice, and chopped chives.

When the eggs are cool enough to handle, peel the shells and mash the eggs, then add them to the bowl with the avocado and combine.

Spoon the mixture onto the crispbreads, sprinkle with some fresh garden cress and season with black pepper. You will find that this makes a lot of egg avonnaise so ensure you finish the lot, enjoy!

FULL ENGLISH WITH SWEET POTATO HASH BROWNS

Serves 1

A 'Full English' isn't always the healthiest choice on a breakfast menu but with this recipe that's full of protein, iron-rich spinach, and healthy fats, I've made sure it is. Sweet potato is incredibly rich in vitamin A, plus it contains more fibre than a white potato, so keeps you full for longer and doesn't result in such a sharp blood sugar spike. Serve with poached eggs, or if you fancy something different, try frying them in water.

INGREDIENTS

2–3 eggs
handful of thickly grated sweet potato
handful of fresh spinach
½ avocado, sliced
freshly ground black pepper

METHOD

First make the hash browns. Beat one egg in a bowl and mix in the grated sweet potato, then use your hands to shape into two small patties.

Heat a non-stick frying pan over a moderate heat and dry-fry the hash browns for approximately 8–10 minutes, until golden brown and crispy on both sides.

Now poach the eggs. Bring a pan of water to the boil, then reduce the heat until it is barely simmering. Crack one egg into a cup and then slide it gently into the water, then repeat with the remaining egg. Cook for 2–3 minutes, then lift each egg out of the water with a slotted spoon and drain them on kitchen paper.

Now wilt your spinach. I like to wilt my spinach for a few minutes in a dry saucepan – no water in sight. It stops the spinach going watery and holds in all that iron-rich flavour.

Arrange the hash browns on a serving dish and top with the poached eggs. Add the avocado and wilted spinach and season with black pepper.

FULLY LOADED FRITTATA

Serves 3

Frittatas are great when you're looking for a powerful hit of energy and healthy nutrients – I've loaded this one with superfoods like broccoli and spinach. They're also super-easy to put together and I even love to eat them cold, so do swap your sandwich habit for a slice of tasty frittata – it's the perfect grab and go-style lunch.

INGREDIENTS

3 tsp extra virgin olive oil
6–9 eggs
½ tsp mixed herbs
small handful of chopped broccoli small handful of sliced courgette
1 red pepper, thinly sliced
1 red onion, chopped
handful of fresh spinach
pinch of chilli flakes (optional)

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4) and grease a wide, shallow ovenproof dish with 1 teaspoon of oil.

Crack the eggs into a large bowl and whisk together with the mixed herbs. Add all the vegetables with the remaining extra virgin olive oil and mix well.

Transfer the mixture to your ovenproof dish and bake in the oven for 30–40 minutes, until the frittata is cooked through and starting to brown on the top.

Allow the frittata to cool slightly in the pan before you transfer to a plate, slice, and serve.

GREEN EMPRESS DIP

Serves 2

A dip fit for royalty. Creamy avocado and silken tofu blend with zesty lemon and a trio of fresh herbs for a vibrant, nutrient-rich snack. Packed with healthy fats, protein, and antioxidants – get dipping with crunchy crudités for a light and refreshing bite.

INGREDIENTS

1 ripe avocado
Silken tofu 3 x the size and thickness of your palm
Handful basil leaves
Handful fresh parsley
Handful fresh chives
1 large clove garlic
Juice of 1 lemon
Large pinch black pepper
2 handful of mixed crudites (e.g., carrots, peppers, cucumber, celery etc)

METHOD

Place all ingredients into a blender or food processor and blitz until smooth. This may take a few bursts to get the best consistency.

Portion into two pots and enjoy with a handful of raw vegetables of your choice – carrot sticks, red pepper batons and cucumber work well.

GREEN GODDESS SMOOTHIE

Serves 1

This smoothie is not only delightfully sweet but also fibre-rich, which improves digestion and creates a feeling of satiety. Flaxseeds and pistachios are also high in heart-healthy fats, which can lower levels of bad cholesterol.

INGREDIENTS

a few pieces of frozen sliced banana a few pieces of frozen sliced pineapple handful of fresh spinach leaves
2 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt
200ml (7fl oz) unsweetened soya milk OR unsweetened pea milk
8 pistachios
1 tsp milled flaxseed handful of ice cubes (optional)

METHOD

Place all the ingredients in a blender and blitz until smooth, then pour into your favourite glass and enjoy.

Slice the banana and pineapple and freeze them yourself.

GRIDDLED NECTARINES WITH ORANGE AND GREEK YOGURT

Serves 1

You must try this even if you are not a fan of nectarines. By griddling the fruit, it releases the juices and starts to caramelise the skin and soft flesh to give it a sweeter flavour. Topped with the sharpness of the orange zest and the creamy full fat Greek yogurt, it's a dreamy bit of heaven!

INGREDIENTS

1 large nectarine, cut into 8 segments

3 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt

zest and juice of ½ orange

8 pistachio nuts, chopped

METHOD

Arrange the nectarine segments on a hot griddle and cook until softened and slightly charred.

Serve on a plate with the yogurt, top with the orange zest and juice and scatter over the chopped pistachios.

KEY LIME PIE SMOOTHIE

Serves 1

Tart, sharp, and sweet. My key lime pie smoothie is made from just a handful of delicious ingredients, perfect for an “anytime of the day” treat!

INGREDIENTS

1 rice cake
1 tbsp oats
½ serving of The Six Pack
Revolution Vanilla Caramel
Heaven Post Workout
Protein Shake Powder
150ml (2/3 cup)
unsweetened almond milk
juice and zest of 1
lime (reserve a thin slice to decorate)
6 cashew nuts, chopped
or finely crushed

METHOD

Crush the rice cake and put to one side .

Add all remaining ingredients and a handful of ice to a blender and blitz until smooth.

Sprinkle the crushed rice cake on the top of the smoothie and decorate with a slice of lime, if you wish.

Enjoy!

KNICKERBOCKER GLORY

Serves 2

I used to love a Knickerbocker Glory when I was a child and so I was determined to create a healthy version. For me, it's all about the contrasting textures of the fruit – it definitely makes the experience feel indulgent.

INGREDIENTS

handful of raspberries
2 tsp chia seeds
handful of chopped
pineapple
1 apple, diced
6 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-
based vegan yogurt
12 pecan halves, crushed

METHOD

Blitz the raspberries in a food processor or blender or mush them through a sieve until you have a really juicy pulp.

Place the raspberry pulp in a bowl and stir in the chia seeds, then set aside until they turn a little jellied. Place the pineapple in a blender and blitz to a pulp.

In your favourite tall glass, create even layers with your ingredients, starting with the yogurt and finishing with fruit on top. Sprinkle over the crushed pecans and enjoy!.

LATTE LOVERS PROTEIN SHAKE

Serves 1

This is the perfect way to perk up your morning – I only ever make it with a good strong coffee to give me the lift I need and, well, it just tastes better. The cinnamon is optional but I highly recommend it as it is both rich in antioxidants and believed to boost the metabolism.

INGREDIENTS

½ cup strong coffee OR 1
single espresso coffee

1 tbsp rolled oats

½ serving (40ml; 1 scoop)
of The Six Pack Revolution
Vanilla Caramel Heaven
Post Workout Smoothie

200ml (7fl oz)
unsweetened soya milk OR
unsweetened pea milk

handful of ice
cubes, (optional)

dusting of ground
cinnamon (optional)

METHOD

First make the coffee, then allow to cool.

Place the oats, protein powder, and soya milk in a blender. Add the coffee with a handful of ice (if using) and blitz until smooth.

Pour into your favourite glass and top with a little cinnamon if you like a bit of spice!

MUSHROOM PATE

Serves 2

For those moments when you want something a little special. Earthy mushrooms, fragrant rosemary, and creamy cottage cheese come together to create a smooth, elegant pâté. Packed with antioxidants and brain-boosting benefits, it's perfectly served with toasted wraps for dipping.

INGREDIENTS

2 tsp extra virgin olive oil
1 large handful of mushrooms, roughly chopped
3 shallots, finely chopped
1 garlic clove, crushed
1 sprig fresh rosemary, finely chopped
¼ tsp freshly ground pepper
6 tbsp full fat cottage cheese
2 wholemeal wraps

METHOD

Heat the oil in a large pan on a medium heat, add the mushrooms and cook until they start to brown, stirring at regular intervals. Add the shallots and sauté until they begin to soften, this should take 3-4 minutes. Add the garlic, rosemary, and ground pepper. Stir and cook for a further 2 minutes then set aside to cool.

Add the mushroom mix to a food processor along with the cottage cheese and blend until smooth.

Transfer to ramekins and refrigerate for at least 30 minutes.

For each portion, dry fry the wrap until toasted and cut into triangles.

Serve with the pate and garnish with extra black pepper and more rosemary if you wish. Enjoy!

PEACHY PORRIDGE

Serves 4

I love how fragrant this porridge is with almonds and cardamom, and the delicate fruitiness of the griddled peach tops it to perfection. In fact, this recipe perfectly illustrates one of my main maxims – that no meal should be naked! – as spices not only add flavour but also health benefits. Cardamom is a great spice as it pairs so well with fruit but is also high in magnesium and zinc and great at fighting inflammation. Peaches are also full of vitamins A and C, and I recommend you keep the skin on, for maximum fibre.

INGREDIENTS

75g (2½oz) dry quinoa
45g (1½oz) rolled oats
3 tbsp flaked,
toasted almonds
4 cardamom pods

PER SERVING:

200ml (7fl oz) unsweetened
soya or pea milk
1 ripe peach, cut into wedges
1 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-
based vegan yogurt
zest of 1 orange, plus a squeeze of juice

METHOD

First, make up your porridge mix. In a bowl, place the quinoa, rolled oats, and almonds and mix to combine. Bash the cardamom pods and add the seeds and pods to the mix, stirring again to distribute evenly.

For each serving, spoon 3 tablespoons of porridge mix into a small saucepan. Add 200ml (7fl oz) soya or pea milk and gently bring to the boil, then reduce the heat and simmer until you have the consistency that you like.

While the porridge is simmering, place the peach slices cut-side down onto a hot griddle pan and cook until lightly caramelized (turning frequently).

Remove the cardamom pods (not great to crunch on) from your porridge and serve topped with peach slices, a dollop of Greek yogurt, a sprinkle of orange zest, and a squeeze of orange juice.

PLANT-BASED PORRIDGE WITH BLUEBERRY JUS

Serves 6

This porridge is so easy to make and will keep in an airtight container for months, although it's so delicious, I'd be surprised if it lasts that long! The combination of grains adds to the texture, giving it an almost muesli feel.

INGREDIENTS

90g (scant  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup) oats
4 tbsp barley flakes
3 tbsp uncooked quinoa
2 tbsp chia seeds
1 tbsp dried cranberries
1 tbsp dried blueberries
36 unsalted almonds, chopped (reserve a few for decoration)
1 tsp cinnamon

FOR EACH SERVING

200ml (scant 1 cup)
unsweetened soya milk OR
unsweetened pea milk
6 fresh blueberries

METHOD

Combine the oats, barley flakes, quinoa, chia seeds, cranberries, blueberries, almonds, and cinnamon thoroughly and store in an airtight container.

For each serving, add 3 heaped tablespoons of the porridge mix to a small pan with the soya or pea milk .

Bring to the boil, then reduce the heat and simmer for 2 minutes or until the porridge has reached the consistency you like. Transfer to a bowl.

Squash the fresh blueberries into a pulp with a fork and spoon it over the porridge with a few chopped almonds to finish.

QUINOLA

Serves 2

When I started my health journey, I was amazed at the benefits of this humble grain but was not so sure how I could use this superfood ingredient to make a really tasty and healthy snack. Although this takes a little practice, this creation is by far one of my favourites, so make sure you give this a try!

INGREDIENTS

80g (2¾oz) quinoa
(250g/9oz cooked weight)

1 tbsp chia seeds

1 tbsp mixed seeds (e.g. sunflower seeds, flax seeds, poppy seeds: you can buy them pre-mixed at most supermarkets)

1 heaped tsp dried blueberries

1 heaped tsp dried cranberries

12 almonds, roughly chopped

1 generous tsp honey

3 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt OR 200ml
(7fl oz) unsweetened soya milk OR unsweetened
pea milk (per serving)

METHOD

Bring a pot of water to the boil and cook the quinoa according to the packet instructions, about 20 minutes, then leave to cool.

Preheat the oven to 140°C (120°C fan/275°F/Gas 1) and line a baking tray with parchment paper.

Place the quinoa in a large bowl with all the seeds, dried fruit and almonds and mix together well.

Stir in the honey, ensuring it coats every little bit of the mixture and it is all lovely and sticky.

Tip the mixture into the prepared tray and spread out evenly. Bake in the oven for 30 minutes, checking regularly and stirring every 10 minutes or so to ensure it is baking evenly. The mixture should be golden but not burned at all. (I like to turn the oven off and leave the quinoa on the tray overnight for extra crunchiness.)

Remove from the oven and set aside to cool, then store in an airtight container until you are ready to serve.

I like to turn the oven off and leave the quinoa on the tray in the oven overnight for extra crunchiness

RASPBERRY AND BLUEBERRY PANCAKES

Serves 1

All types of berries are a superfood as they are full of vitamins – especially vitamin C, which boosts your immune system – plus antioxidants called flavonoids, which fight inflammation. These simple pancakes include both blueberries and raspberries and make a perfect healthy snack.

INGREDIENTS

4 egg whites
1 vanilla pod, split open and seeds removed large pinch of ground
cinnamon
3 tbsp oats
large handful of blueberries
2 tbsp full-fat
cottage cheese
large handful of raspberries
1 tsp coconut oil

METHOD

In a large bowl, blend the egg whites with the vanilla pod seeds and cinnamon until frothy. Add the oats and blueberries and blend again. Finally, fold the cottage cheese into the batter mix until thoroughly incorporated.

Place 5 raspberries in a bowl and mash with a fork until you have a bright, glossy pulp, then set aside.

Heat a little coconut oil in a non-stick frying pan over a medium heat. When hot, add a ladleful of batter and swirl the pan until the base is evenly coated. Cook the pancake for 2–3 minutes, then flip over and cook the other side until golden brown.

Serve each pancake with a drizzle of raspberry jus and a scattering of fresh raspberries.

RASPBERRY, PECAN AND LEMON PUDDING POT

Serves 1

A dreamy, single-serve dessert that's perfect when you're craving something sweet but still want to keep it super light!

INGREDIENTS

1 tbsp cottage cheese
2 tbsp Greek yogurt
1 tsp honey
1 egg
Juice of ¼ lemon
¼ tsp baking powder
6 pecan halves, chopped
A small handful of raspberries

METHOD

Blend the cottage cheese, Greek yogurt, honey, egg, lemon, and baking powder until smooth.

Pour the mixture into a ramekin.

Chop your pecans and add them, along with a handful of raspberries, to the ramekin.

Bake at 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4) for 25 minutes or until set.

Optional: Add a little Greek yogurt and a squeeze of lemon on top for an extra zing!

And as always, enjoy!

RASPBERRY RIPPLE SMOOTHIE

Serves 1

My daughter absolutely loves this healthy smoothie and it is super cute when served in little milk bottle style glass jars with a straw. Seriously though, this smoothie is perfect for everyone and tastes delicious!

INGREDIENTS

1 tbsp full-fat cottage cheese
2 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya (soy)-based vegan yogurt
200ml (scant 1 cup) unsweetened soya (soy) milk OR unsweetened pea milk zest of ½ lemon
squeeze of lemon juice
seeds of 1 vanilla pod handful of raspberries (fresh or frozen)

METHOD

Add all the ingredients and a handful of ice in a blender and blitz.

Serve in your favourite glass or shaker and enjoy!

Use the empty pod in some boiling water for a vanilla twist to your tea

SCRAMBLED EGGS, SPINACH AND AVOCADO

Serves 1

Eggs are considered a perfect protein source and scrambling them is the one thing you just can't get wrong. This simple dish contains the perfect balance of protein, carbs, and healthy fats that will keep you feeling full and nourished – and also help muscles to grow and repair.

INGREDIENTS:

2–3 eggs
handful of spinach
½ avocado, sliced
freshly ground black pepper

METHOD

Whisk the eggs together in a small bowl.

Tip the beaten egg into a non-stick frying pan over a medium heat and cook, stirring, until it has almost reached your preferred consistency. At this point, add the spinach and continue to stir, then take the pan off the heat.

Serve the scramble with sliced avocado, season with black pepper and enjoy!

SHAKSHUKA

Serves 1

Shakshuka is a classic Middle Eastern dish and its name literally means ‘all mixed up’. It is cooked in one pot and can be eaten at any time of the day as it works just as well for brunch as for dinner. I love its ultra-fragrant and warming flavours and the fact that it is all so healthy!

INGREDIENTS

1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
½ small red onion, chopped
1 garlic clove, crushed
½ red pepper, chopped
½ Portobello mushroom, sliced
½ tsp mild chilli powder
pinch of cayenne pepper
pinch of paprika
½ tsp ground cumin
200g (7oz) chopped tomatoes (½ x 400g/14oz can)
2–3 eggs
freshly ground black pepper
1 heaped tsp fresh, finely chopped coriander

METHOD

Heat the oil in a non-stick frying pan that has a lid over a moderate heat and fry the onion, garlic, pepper, and mushroom until soft and the onion starts to caramelize.

Stir through the spices and cook for a minute until fragrant, then add the chopped tomatoes and bring to a simmer. Cook for approximately 3 minutes.

Using a wooden spoon, make three wells in the sauce and then crack an egg into each one. Cover the pan with a lid and cook for 8–10 minutes, until the eggs are done to your liking.

Season with black pepper and scatter fresh coriander over the top. I like to tuck in straight from the pan, but you can also transfer to a nice bowl!

SALMON SUSHI ROLLS

Serves 1

These Sushi Rolls are packed with flavour and loaded with healthy fats from the salmon and avocado. Perfect for that quick and healthy snack!

INGREDIENTS

2 cucumbers
1 tbsp cottage cheese
1 spring onion, sliced
1 slice smoked salmon
1/4 avocado, sliced

TOPPING:

A crack of black pepper (optional)
A squeeze of lemon
1 tsp sesame seeds, to sprinkle

METHOD

Peel thin slices of cucumber (about 10) with a potato peeler, avoiding the seeded middle.

Lay the slices flat on your chopping board, overlapping them slightly.

Add the tablespoon of cottage cheese, sliced spring onion and smoked salmon along the top portion of your cucumber slices.

Place the sliced avocado on top and season with black pepper.

Roll up your cucumber and slice. Top with the sesame seeds and a squeeze of lemon.

Enjoy!

SPINACH AND ASPARAGUS OMELETTE

Serves 1

Omelettes are awesome and my favourite kind of fast food. They take just minutes to prepare, are so full of protein that you stay feeling full, plus they're incredibly versatile – you can add no end of tasty vegetables, cheeses, and herbs, so you need never get bored.

INGREDIENTS

1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
3 asparagus spears,
sliced in half lengthways
2–3 eggs, beaten
freshly ground black pepper
small handful of fresh baby spinach
1 heaped tsp fresh, finely chopped coriander

METHOD

Heat the oil in a non-stick pan over a moderate heat and fry the asparagus spears until they have lightly charred.

In a bowl, beat the eggs with a fork and season with black pepper. Arrange the asparagus in the pan so it is evenly spaced, then pour the egg mixture on top and tilt the pan slightly so the eggs cover the surface of the pan completely. With a spatula, push the edges towards the centre of the pan and keep tilting the pan so the runny egg moves to the edges and cooks through.

When the omelette mixture is set to your liking, run the spatula around the edge of the pan to help free the omelette, then slide it onto a serving plate.

Cover half the omelette with the spinach, then fold over. Season with more black pepper and a sprinkling of coriander and enjoy immediately.

STRAWBERRY ICE CREAM

Serves 2

The Six Pack Revolution Strawberry Cream Sensation Post Workout Smoothie enhances both the flavour and creaminess of this delicious no-fuss ice cream. It's so easy to make and is perfect served with fresh strawberries on a summer's day.

INGREDIENTS

handful of frozen strawberries handful of frozen banana slices

½ serving (40ml; 1 scoop) of The Six Pack Revolution Strawberry Cream Sensation Post Workout Smoothie

2 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt

12 cashew nuts

100ml (3½fl oz)
unsweetened almond milk

2 fresh strawberries,
sliced, to garnish

METHOD

Place the frozen fruit, smoothie powder, yogurt, cashews, and almond milk in a blender and blitz to a smooth consistency.

Transfer the mixture to a freezer container and freeze for 3–4 hours, stirring every 45 minutes.

Serve with a scattering of fresh strawberries.

SWEET POTATO AND BANANA PANCAKES

Serves 1

These truly are my tastiest, fluffiest pancakes and the kids love them too! On top of that they are super healthy and a surprisingly sweet delight!

INGREDIENTS

handful of sweet potato,
peeled and cut into cubes
1 banana
3 eggs
splash of unsweetened
soya (soy) milk or
unsweetened pea milk
pinch of cinnamon
1 tsp coconut oil
juice of ½ a lemon (optional)
1 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya (soy)-
based vegan yogurt

METHOD

Bring a pot of water to the boil and cook the sweet potato for 15 minutes or until they are soft. Drain and mash the potato together with half the banana .

In a blender, beat the eggs for 1 minute, then add the mash, the soya or pea milk, and the cinnamon.

Now heat the coconut oil in a frying pan and add the batter to make one pancake at a time. Cook for a few minutes on each side, then remove from the pan.

Transfer the pancakes to a plate, add a squeeze of lemon if you like, then finely slice the remaining banana and serve on top of the pancake with the yogurt.

SWEET STRAWBERRY TARTS

Serves 1

Craving something sweet? Our very own Six Pack Revolution Strawberry Cream Sensation Protein Shake, mixed with authentic Greek yogurt is the ultimate protein pairing. Pop it on rice cakes – gamechanger – and finish with delicate, nutty almonds packed with healthy fats. Tart-tastic!

INGREDIENTS

2 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt OR Greek-style soya-based vegan

1 scoop (half a serving) The Six Pack Revolution Strawberry Cream Sensation Post Workout Protein Shake

2 large strawberries

2 unsalted rice cakes

2 tsp flaked almonds

METHOD

In a bowl mix the Greek yogurt and protein shake together well.

Chop up the strawberries and add half the portion to the yogurt mixture.

Spread the mixture onto each rice cake evenly.

Add the remaining half of the chopped strawberries on top of the mix.

Sprinkle with the flaked almonds and enjoy both. Alternatively, crush the rice cakes and mix all together. This is a super sweet treat!

TROPICAL FRUIT SALAD

Serves 1

Oh boy this is simple, and also the tastiest way to deliver a major vitamin C boost with lots of health-promoting antioxidants!

INGREDIENTS

combined handful of chopped pineapple,
kiwi, and passion fruit

3 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-
based vegan yogurt

2 tsp coconut shavings
or desiccated coconut

METHOD

Place a spoonful of yogurt in a glass or bowl, then layer with some fruit and then coconut, and keep on layering until the ingredients are all used up. This way, you get a little bit of deliciousness with every spoonful! Serve straightaway.

VEGAN STRAWBERRY PANCAKES

Serves 1

Fluffy, strawberrylicious pancakes, perfect for snacking all day, every day! Never miss a pancake day again with these healthy dollops of goodness. Batch cook and freeze these in advance for an always-available anytime snack.

INGREDIENTS

4 tbsp gram (chickpea) flour
1 scoop of The Six
Pack Revolution Vegan
Strawberry Cream
Sensation Post Workout
Protein Shake Powder
½ tsp baking powder
1 tsp coconut oil
1 tbsp Greek-style soya
(soy)- based vegan yogurt small handful of strawberries, sliced

METHOD

Thoroughly mix the dry ingredients together in a bowl. Gradually add 200ml (scant 1 cup) of water, folding the mixture with a spoon to make a wet batter, then set it aside for 5 minutes.

Heat a little of the coconut oil in a non-stick frying pan, then add some of the batter to the pan (the size of the pancakes is your choice, they can be as large as the pan or the size of your palm). Leave the batter to cook for a few minutes until the edges are firm, then turn the pancake over and cook the other side until they brown.

Continue making pancakes until the batter is used up. Serve the pancakes on a plate with the yogurt and strawberries.

YOGURT AND BERRIES

Serves 1

This makes the simplest and tastiest snack but is so full of goodness. I always keep lots of berries in the freezer as many studies have proven that they contain as much nutrition as freshly picked berries, and you can eat them all year round.

INGREDIENTS

3 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-
based vegan yogurt

handful of blueberries,
blackberries OR raspberries
(or a mix of all three)

6 almonds

sprig of fresh mint,
to garnish

METHOD

Spoon the yogurt into your favourite dish and scatter the berries and almonds over the top. Garnish with a sprig of mint, and enjoy.
