ASIAN PILAF

Serves 2

A pilaf is a one-pot rice dish from the Middle East and Asia that's bursting with flavour! I love its versatility as it provides the basis for so many flavour variations. Here, I'm using heart-healthy bulgur wheat as it's full of fibre and nutrients. Add in the pomegranate seeds for extra antioxidants and a sweet-sour crunch.

INGREDIENTS

2 tsp extra virgin olive oil
½ tsp cumin seeds
3 cardamom pods
1 cinnamon stick
1 tsp grated fresh ginger root
½ red chilli, finely chopped
1 garlic clove, finely chopped
½ red onion, finely chopped
½ tsp ground turmeric
1 tsp garam masala
large handful of mixed vegetables (can be frozen) piece of firm tofu, 3 x the size and thickness of your palm 40g (1¼oz) bulgur wheat (100g/3½oz cooked weight)
pinch of white pepper
1 heaped tbsp fresh, finely chopped coriander, plus a little extra to garnish juice of ½ lemon
1 tbsp pomegranate seeds
2 lemon wedges, to serve

METHOD

Heat the olive oil in a non-stick pan over a medium to high heat and cook the cumin, cardamom, and cinnamon until beautifully fragrant.

Turn the heat down to low and add the ginger, chilli, and garlic, along with a splash of water to bring all the flavours together. Warm through for a minute.

Add the onion and cook to soften, then stir through the turmeric and garam masala.

Add the vegetables and tofu and stir until nicely coated, then cook for 5–8 minutes. If necessary, add another splash of water to stop the spices from sticking to the bottom of the pan.

Keeping the pan over a low heat, add the bulgur wheat and stir to combine. Pour in 300ml (10½fl oz) of water with a pinch of pepper and half the chopped coriander and stir again. Bring the pan to the boil, then reduce to a simmer and cook for 10 minutes, until the bulgur wheat has absorbed the liquid but still retains a slight bite (you don't want it too soft).

Take the pan off the heat and stir through the lemon juice and pomegranate seeds. Remove the cinnamon stick and cardamom pods and then divide between two plates and garnish with a little coriander and a wedge of lemon.

BUTTERBEAN STEW

Serves 1

This lovely stew, with its rich tomato base and lemon and paprika flavours, reminds me of Spanish tapas. The addition of butterbeans allows you to stock up on some essential protein and B vitamins.

INGREDIENTS

1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
½ small red or white onion, finely chopped
1 garlic clove, crushed
2 closed cup mushrooms, chopped
½ tsp paprika
pinch of white pepper
1 heaped tsp fresh, finely chopped basil
200g (7oz) chopped tomatoes (½ x 400g/14oz can)
1 tsp tomato purée
pinch of dried chilli flakes
1 heaped tsp finely chopped flat-leaf parsley 400g (14oz) can of butterbeans, drained and rinsed handful of fresh spinach squeeze of lemon
freshly ground black pepper

METHOD

Heat the oil in a non-stick pan over a low to medium heat and gently fry the onion and garlic until soft. Add the mushrooms, paprika, white pepper, basil, tomatoes, tomato purée, chilli flakes, and chopped parsley and stir together along with 100ml (3½fl oz) of water. Simmer for 5 minutes.

Add the butterbeans and simmer for a further 5 minutes.

Stir in the spinach until wilted, add a squeeze of lemon and season with black pepper.

CHICKEN AND ASPARAGUS STIR FRY

Serves 2

I love how effortlessly this meal comes together – ready in just 15 minutes! Packed with lean protein and asparagus, a fibre-rich powerhouse for digestive health, it's a light yet satisfying option that's brimming with flavour. Perfect for any time you need a simple, nourishing meal.

60g/2oz dry quinoa
(180g/6oz cooked weight)

1 tsp sesame oil

1 clove garlic, crushed

½ tsp chinese five spice chicken breast, 2 x the size and thickness of your palm

1 handful of asparagus

½ tsp chilli (optional)

1 tsp sesame seeds

Juice of 1 lemon

Coriander, finely chopped

METHOD

Bring a pan of water to the boil, add the quinoa and simmer for 10 minutes or as per packet instructions.

Heat the sesame oil in a wok and add the garlic and chinese five spice to the pan and fry for a few minutes.

Meanwhile, thinly cut the chicken breast and place into the wok until cooked through, almost golden brown. Add the asparagus to the wok and cook for a further 4-5 minutes.

Remove the quinoa from the heat, drain the water and add to the wok. Toss all the ingredients together well then add the teaspoon of sesame seeds and squeeze of lemon juice. Sprinkle with the chopped coriander and mix again.

Serve onto 2 plates to enjoy this quick and simple dish.

CHICKEN AND ROASTIES WITH RATATOUILLE

Serves 2

When you are looking for a healthy alternative to your Sunday roast then look no further. I love the fact that by just adding some fresh rosemary gives the whole dish that ‘Sunday roast’ feeling! Plus, my children have taste tested these wonderful sweet potato roasties and have given them the thumbs up.

1 large sweet potato, cut into roastie size (jacket left on)

1 tsp extra virgin olive oil

Black pepper

2 palm size and thickness amounts of chicken breast

RATATOUILLE

1 tsp extra virgin olive oil

½ red onion chopped

1 clove of garlic crushed

½ coloured pepper chopped

½ courgette sliced then halved

1 tsp mixed herbs

1 tsp fresh rosemary leaves chopped (plus a pinch for garnish)

200g of chopped tomatoes (½ tin)

METHOD

Make your roasties! Put your roastie sized sweet potato into a pan of boiling water for around 10 minutes or until they are starting to soften.

Preheat your oven to 180°C while your potatoes are boiling.

Drain your potatoes and coat in a half a teaspoon of extra virgin olive oil, black pepper and fresh rosemary and add to a roasting tin.

Coat your chicken in half a teaspoon of extra virgin olive oil, black pepper and some fresh rosemary leaves and add to the same roasting tin.

Bake the roasties and chicken in the oven for around 20 minutes, turning regularly to ensure the potatoes and the chicken cooked through.

To make your ratatouille add a teaspoon of extra virgin olive oil to a non-stick pan and gently fry your onion, garlic, peppers and courgette on a medium heat until they start to soften.

You can then add your mixed herbs and fresh rosemary and give it all a good stir then add your half a tin of chopped tomatoes and stir again. Cover your pan and simmer on a low heat for 20 minutes.

Serve on a plate, garnish with a pinch of finely chopped rosemary and enjoy!

CHICKEN BREAST IN A ROASTED RED PEPPER SAUCE

Serves 1

I don't know if there is anything cosier than a baked potato. This is my version using a sweet potato for its healthy vibes, sitting comfortably next to my delicious red peppered chicken. I love this meal for its simplicity and great flavours.

INGREDIENTS

1 handful size of sweet potato
1 chicken breast, the size and thickness of your palm ½ tsp extra virgin olive oil
freshly ground black pepper
pinch of dried mixed herbs
1 tbsp full-fat cottage cheese OR full-fat Greek yogurt OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt

FOR THE SAUCE

½ red pepper, deseeded and roughly chopped
½ red onion, roughly chopped
1 garlic clove, whole
3 pitted black or green olives
10 fresh basil leaves
1 tsp tomato paste

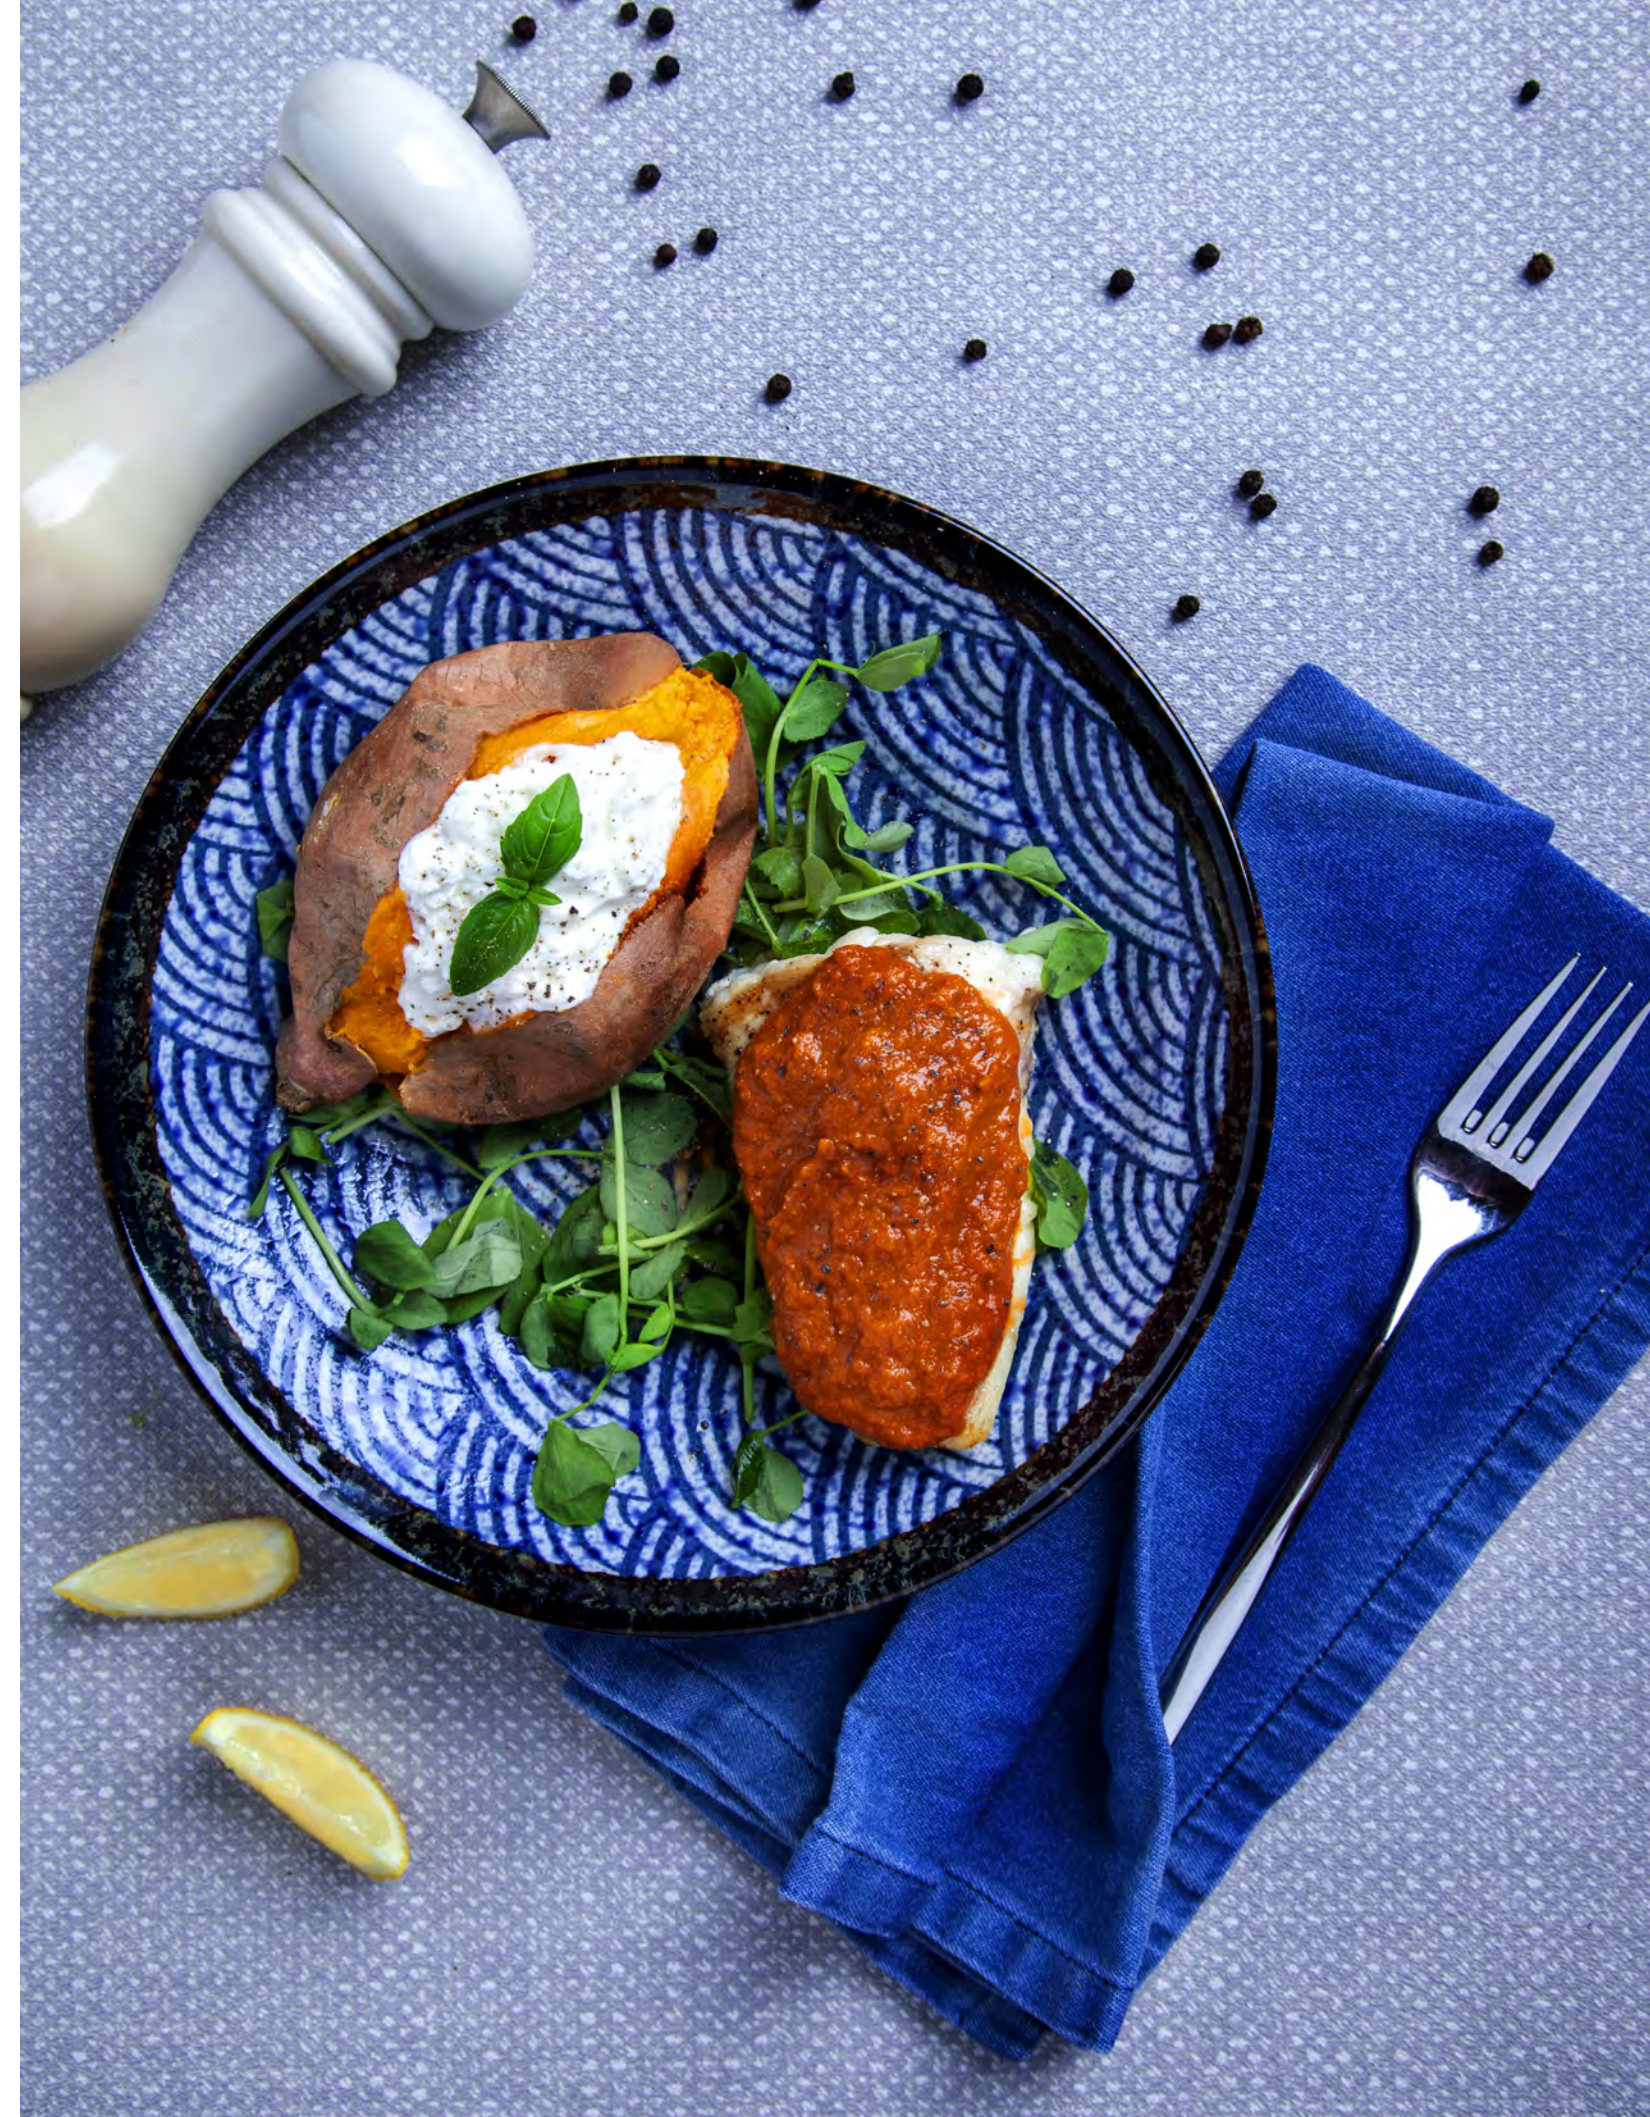

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4).

Prick the sweet potato with a fork and bake in the oven for 15 minutes. Meanwhile, coat the chicken breast with the olive oil and season with black pepper and the mixed herbs. Place on a baking tray in the oven with the sweet potato and cook both for a further 25 minutes or until thoroughly cooked through.

While they are cooking, make the roasted pepper sauce. Put the roughly chopped red pepper and red onion and place on a baking tray with the garlic clove. Cook in the oven for 15 minutes then remove and add to a blender with the olives, basil, and tomato paste and blitz to a creamy consistency. Add a splash of water if it is too thick.

Take the potato and chicken out of the oven and serve on a plate. Cut the potato lengthways and squeeze, then top with the cottage cheese or Greek yogurt. Add the chicken breast and top with the red pepper sauce. Serve with a leafy salad, a wedge of lemon and garnish with fresh basil, if you wish.

CHICKEN MADRAS WITH QUINOA

Serves 1

This recipe is probably the easiest curry to make (ever!) and is full of store cupboard staples, so perfect for that mid-week meal when you've very little left in the fridge. I love to eat quinoa with curry instead of rice as the slightly nutty flavour works so well with all the spices, and the texture too!

INGREDIENTS

1 tsp coconut oil
½ red onion, finely chopped
½ red pepper, finely chopped
1 garlic clove, finely chopped
1 tsp grated fresh ginger root
3 cloves
3 cardamom pods, cracked
1 chicken breast, the size and thickness of your palm, cut into cubes
½ tsp turmeric
½ tsp ground cumin
½ tsp ground coriander
¼ tsp chilli powder
pinch of white pepper
1 heaped tsp tomato purée
30g (1oz) quinoa (90g/3oz cooked weight)
juice of ½ lemon
small handful of fresh, finely chopped coriander, to garnish

METHOD

Heat the coconut oil in a non-stick pan over a low to medium heat and gently fry the onion, pepper, garlic, and ginger with the cloves and cardamom pods. Cook, stirring, for about 5 minutes, until the vegetables are soft.

Add the chicken and stir for a few minutes to seal. Add the turmeric, cumin, coriander, chilli powder, white pepper, and tomato purée with 3½ tablespoons of water and stir again to combine. Bring to the boil, then reduce the heat and simmer for 15 minutes or until your chicken is cooked through.

While the curry is simmering, prepare the quinoa according to the packet instructions.

When the chicken is cooked, stir in the lemon juice. Spoon the quinoa onto a serving plate and top with the curry (you may want to remove the cardamom pods and cloves). Garnish with coriander and serve.

CHICKEN SATAY SPECIAL

Serves 1

This delicious combo of chicken and peanut butter packs a powerful protein punch. Just remember to pick the best quality, all-natural peanut butter you can find (one without added sugars and oils), in order to achieve that authentic satay flavour!

INGREDIENTS

chicken breast, the size and thickness of your palm, cut into large cubes handful of mixed peppers, cut into large cubes (big enough to skewer)

FOR SATAY SAUCE

1 tsp all-natural peanut butter

¼ tsp grated fresh ginger root juice of ¼ lime

pinch of cayenne pepper

sprinkle of fresh, finely chopped

coriander, to garnish

1 spring onion, finely chopped, to garnish

METHOD

Preheat the grill to medium.

Thread the chicken and pepper cubes alternately onto a large skewer, then place under the grill and cook, turning frequently, for approximately 15 minutes, until cooked through.

While the chicken is cooking, make the satay sauce. Place a non-stick pan over a low heat, add the peanut butter, ginger, lime juice, and cayenne pepper and stir together until the peanut butter has softened. Add a splash of water if necessary – you need the right consistency for drizzling.

Arrange the chicken and red pepper skewer on your favourite plate and then drizzle over the satay sauce. Garnish with chopped coriander and spring onion, and enjoy.

CHICKPEA DHANSAK

Serves 2

INGREDIENTS

1 sweet potato, peeled and chopped into small cubes

2 tsp coconut oil

1 small onion, peeled and finely chopped

1 heaped teaspoon fresh ginger, finely grated

3 cardamom pods

2 cloves of garlic, crushed

½ fresh red chilli, finely chopped (retain a couple of slices for garnish)

1 tsp cumin powder

1 tsp ground coriander

1 tsp ground turmeric

½ can chopped tomatoes (200g)

100ml water

1 tin of chickpeas, drained and rinsed (400g)

1 tin red lentils, drained and rinsed (400g)

Juice of half a lemon (retain the other half to cut into wedges as garnish)

Pinch of white pepper

Coriander leaf to garnish

METHOD

Peel and chop the sweet potato into small cubes and place in a small saucepan, covered with water. Place on the hob and bring to the boil, then simmer for 15 minutes until tender.

Remove from the hob and drain, then set to one side.

In a non-stick pan, heat the coconut oil over a low heat. Gently fry the onion and ginger for 2–3 minutes until softened.

Meanwhile, remove and discard the outer husks of the cardamom pods, add the black seeds to the pan along with the crushed garlic, chilli, cumin, coriander and turmeric and stir.

Add the chopped tomatoes and the water and simmer for 5 minutes.

Now add the sweet potato cubes and the chickpeas and lentils to the curry sauce and stir thoroughly.

Simmer the mixture gently for 10-15 minutes until the chickpeas have softened, then add the lemon juice and a pinch of white pepper and stir well.

Serve in your favourite bowl with a garnish of fresh coriander, some chopped fresh chilli and a wedge of lemon.

Enjoy!

CHINESE SEITAN LETTUCE WRAPS

Serves 2

Seitan is a great alternative to chicken and unlike tofu or tempeh, which are made from soya beans (soybeans). It also has a great texture that combines well with other flavours. This recipe has a solid spice kick and a freshness from the mango and lettuce.

INGREDIENTS

1 tsp sesame oil
seitan slices,
3 x the size and thickness of your palm, chopped into small cubes
4 spring (green) onions, finely sliced
1 tsp Chinese five spice
1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
2 closed cup mushrooms, finely chopped ½ mango, chopped into small cubes
4 Little Gem lettuce leaves
1 tbsp fresh, chopped
coriander (cilantro)
2 wedges of lemon

METHOD

Heat the sesame oil in a non-stick frying pan over a medium heat and stir-fry the seitan with the spring onions and half of the five spice for 5 minutes.

Add the olive oil and mushrooms and cook for a further 2 minutes. Remove from the heat, add the mango, and stir together.

Put two large lettuce leaves on each plate, load them with the seitan mixture, garnish with coriander, and serve with a wedge of lemon.

CLASSIC BURGER

Serves 1

We all love a burger, right? So, I had to create my superhealthy plant-based version that still has a satisfying bite! And swapping out the bun for a wholemeal pita means that all the flavour of the patty takes centre stage and it's far easier to eat without all the fillings dropping out – genius!

INGREDIENTS

1 tsp rapeseed oil
½ white onion, finely chopped
1 garlic clove, finely chopped
½ tsp dried rosemary ½ tsp dried thyme plant-based mince, 1½ x the size and thickness of your palm pinch of black pepper
4 cherry tomatoes
1 wholemeal pita
3 Little Gem lettuce leaves
½ red onion, thinly sliced

FOR THE TOMATO KETCHUP

1 tbsp tomato purée
2 large pinches of white pepper
¼ tsp paprika
juice of ¼ lemon
freshly ground black pepper

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4).

Heat the oil in a non-stick frying pan over a low to medium heat and cook the onion, garlic, rosemary, and thyme until soft.

Transfer the onion to a bowl and mix with the plant-based mince until thoroughly combined. Season with black pepper and, with your hands, mould the mixture into a patty shape.

Preheat a griddle pan over a medium heat and cook the burger for about 2 minutes on each side, until the edges brown. Transfer the pan to the oven and cook for a further 10 minutes, to make sure it is cooked through.

While the burger is cooking, make the tomato ketchup. Place all the ingredients in a small bowl with 4 tablespoons of water and stir until thoroughly combined.

Transfer the burger to a plate and keep warm. Place the cherry tomatoes on the hot griddle and place these in the oven to roast until they begin to burst. At the same time warm the pita in the oven.

When ready to serve, slice open the warmed pita, add the lettuce leaves, sliced red onion, and the delicious burger, and top with those bursting cherry tomatoes.

CORONATION QUORN WRAP

Serves 2

This is a delectable twist on the British Coronation classic. Perfect for lunch on the go or a great addition to your summer picnic! And, if you have any left over, the lightly curried Quorn makes an excellent filling in a baked sweet potato.

INGREDIENTS

½ tbsp full-fat Greek-style yogurt OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt

½ tsp curry powder

¼ tsp ground cinnamon

pinch of white pepper

1 tsp flaked almonds

2 tsp sultanas

1 tsp extra virgin olive oil

Quorn pieces, 3 x the size and thickness of your palm

2 wholemeal wraps

2 Little Gem lettuce leaves

1 medium tomato, sliced

1 heaped tsp fresh, finely chopped coriander

METHOD

First make the Coronation sauce. Place the yogurt, curry powder, cinnamon, and white pepper in a large bowl.

In a pestle and mortar, crush the flaked almonds, then add to the bowl with the sultanas and stir to combine.

In a pan, heat the extra virgin olive oil and stir-fry the Quorn pieces on a low to medium heat for about 10 minutes, or until it starts to brown nicely, then set aside to cool.

Heat the wholemeal wraps – either warm them in a low oven for 5 minutes or dry-fry in a hot pan for about a minute.

Add the cooled Quorn to the Coronation sauce and stir to coat, then layer the wraps with lettuce leaves, Coronation Quorn, and tomato slices, and dress with a scattering of coriander.

Fold up the wraps and enjoy!

DELICIOUS DHAL

Serves 3

I love dhal as it's a plant-based, gluten-free, one-pot wonder and so easy to make. Even if you are not a fan of too much spice, the addition of tomatoes completely balances the flavours.

INGREDIENTS

300g (10oz) dry red split lentils, rinsed
3 tsp extra virgin olive oil
1 red onion, finely chopped
2 garlic cloves, crushed
400g (14oz) can of chopped tomatoes
1 tbsp tomato purée
1 tsp turmeric
1 tsp cumin seeds
1 tsp ground coriander
1 tsp garam masala
1 tsp fresh ginger root
pinch of chilli flakes
pinch of white pepper
3 wholemeal wraps
handful of fresh, finely chopped coriander, to garnish wedge of lime, to serve

METHOD

Place the rinsed lentils in a saucepan and cover with double the quantity of water. Bring to the boil, then reduce the heat and simmer for about 10 minutes until soft. Drain and set aside.

Meanwhile, heat the oil in a large non-stick pan over a medium heat and fry the onion and garlic until soft.

Add the tomatoes, tomato purée, spices, fresh ginger, chilli flakes, and white pepper, along with the lentils and simmer for 10 minutes while continuing to stir regularly.

Place another frying pan over a medium heat and dry-fry the wholemeal wraps until crispy. You will have to watch these as they can burn quickly. Cook one at a time, then cut into quarters and cover to keep warm.

Serve garnished with fresh coriander and a wedge of lime, and use the crispy wraps in place of cutlery.

FEAST FROM THE EAST

Serves 1

This wonderfully fragrant dish is so simple to make as the ras el hanout spice mix does all the heavy lifting. It's an earthy mix of many spices that generally includes cardamom, nutmeg, anise, mace, cinnamon, ginger, various peppercorns, and turmeric, but the breadth and variety is endlessly versatile. Do add it to your shelf of go-to spices.

INGREDIENTS

1 x 400g (14oz) can of chickpeas, drained and rinsed
1 tsp ras el hanout
1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
½ red pepper, chopped
½ green pepper, chopped
3 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt
a few fresh mint leaves, chopped, plus a little extra to garnish squeeze of lemon

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 200°C (180°C fan/400°F/Gas 6).

Tip the rinsed chickpeas onto a clean kitchen towel to dry, then transfer them to a baking tray with the ras el hanout and toss until they are all thoroughly coated. Roast for 30–40 minutes until nice and crunchy, turning occasionally, then set aside to cool.

Meanwhile, place the oil in a non-stick pan over a low heat and gently fry the peppers until slightly soft and starting to caramelize.

In a bowl, mix the crunchy spiced chickpeas with the peppers and the remaining ingredients, then serve with an extra sprig of fresh mint.

FISH AND CHIPS WITH CHIP SHOP CURRY SAUCE

Serves 1

My simple adaptation of a British favourite. Add in my guilty pleasure of chip shop curry sauce and you have a healthy version of a wonderfully nostalgic recipe.

INGREDIENTS

handful of sweet potato, sliced into chunky chips

1 cod fillet (or other white fish), the size and thickness of your palm

freshly ground black pepper

small sprig of rosemary, leaves finely chopped

FOR THE CURRY SAUCE

½ tsp grated fresh ginger root

1 garlic clove, crushed

½ red onion, finely chopped

1 tsp coconut oil

½ tsp garam masala

½ tsp mild curry powder

tiny squeeze of lemon juice

1 heaped tsp full-fat Greek yogurt OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4).

Season the fish with black pepper and sprinkle over the chopped rosemary.

Put the chips on a baking tray in the oven for 30 minutes.

Begin to prepare the curry sauce by adding the coconut oil to a non-stick pan and frying the ginger, garlic, and onion on a low heat for 5 minutes.

Now put the fish under the grill (broiler) for 15 minutes. Turn the fish after half the cooking time and shake the chips, so they don't stick.

Add the garam masala and curry powder to the curry sauce and continue to stir. Pour in 100ml (6½ tbsp) of water then bring to the boil, reduce the heat, and allow the liquid to reduce, until it reaches a sauce-like consistency. Remove the sauce from the heat, squeeze over the lemon juice and stir in the spoonful of yogurt. Transfer the sauce to a blender. Arrange the fish and chips on a plate or wrap them in some baking paper with the sauce in a small dish on the side for dipping.

GRILLED TOFU WITH A MIXED BEAN SALAD

Serves 1

So, what's the deal with Tofu? If you've not tried it before then I can honestly say you are missing a trick. Not only is it low in calories, it is an excellent source of protein and its gluten free! I've used a combination of garlic and chives and added mustard powder to make a strong dressing that really pulls it all together.

INGREDIENTS

½ a tin of mixed beans or beans of your choice (200g)

6 green beans, chopped

½ a red pepper, finely chopped

¼ of a stick of celery, sliced thinly

½ a small red onion, finely chopped

Juice of half a lemon

¾ a palm size and thickness amount of silken tofu

FOR THE DRESSING

Juice of half a lemon

1 tsp extra virgin olive oil

½ tsp mustard powder

1 tsp finely chopped fresh chives

1 garlic clove, crushed

Black pepper to season

METHOD

In a bowl start by making your lovely rich bean salad. Combine your mixed beans, green beans, pepper, celery and onion. Squeeze into your bowl the juice of half a lemon give it a good old mix and season with black pepper.

Slice your tofu into four thick slices, season both sides with black pepper and place under a preheated grill.

Watch it carefully and when it starts to bubble and brown a little on the top turn it over and repeat on the other side.

To make the dressing, just mix the other half of the lemon juice, a teaspoon of extra virgin olive oil, mustard powder, chives, garlic and black pepper in a small bowl ready for serving.

Place your grilled tofu nicely on your plate and serve with your hearty bean salad.

Drizzle your dressing over absolutely everything to make this super healthy recipe really pack a flavoursome punch!

JACKET POTATO WITH QUORN CHILLI AND GUACAMOLE

Serves 2

Sweet potatoes are not only a fabulous source of fibre and packed full of nutrients, they are the perfect accompaniment to any meal. The combination of the baked sweet potato with the hearty and healthy chilli makes this a perfect winter warmer.

INGREDIENTS

2 sweet potatoes
½ red onion, chopped
½ red pepper, chopped
1 clove of garlic, crushed
1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
2 palm size and thickness amounts of Quorn mince
½ a tin of kidney beans, rinsed (200g)
2 heaped tsp tomato purée
½ tsp chilli powder
½ tsp ground cumin
1 tsp mixed herbs
Pinch of paprika
100ml water
Rocket leaves to garnish (optional)
FOR THE GUACAMOLE
1 avocado
½ lime
½ garlic clove, crushed (optional) bunch of fresh, chopped coriander (cilantro) sprinkle of chilli flakes

METHOD

Preheat your oven to 180°C.

Make the guacamole by crushing the avocado with a fork and squeezing the lime juice over the top. Add the garlic, coriander, and chilli flakes, mixing well. Put the guacamole in the fridge for later.

Prick your sweet potatoes all over and bake in the preheated oven for 40 minutes.

While your potatoes are baking you can make the chilli. Fry your red onion, red pepper and garlic in a teaspoon of extra virgin olive oil on a medium heat in your non-stick pan for 3 minutes or until softened.

Add your Quorn mince, kidney beans, tomato purée, chilli powder, cumin, mixed herbs and paprika and mix all together.

Add the water, stir thoroughly and simmer for 15-20 minutes.

Now you can make your guacamole.

Remove your potatoes from the oven and slice the top lengthways and pinch together to open the potato to make room for your delicious chilli.

Top with the chilli, 1 tablespoon of guacamole and a bunch of rocket leaves.

JACKET POTATO WITH TUNA AVONNAISE

Serves 1

We all know consuming fish as part of your diet provides multiple benefits, from improving the condition of your skin and hair to keeping your heart healthy. By regularly adding tuna to your diet you are helping your body maintain a healthy blood pressure, strengthen your immune system and keep your bones strong. Replacing regular mayo with a mix of avocado and Greek yogurt, gives you the creaminess of mayo with heart-healthy unsaturated fats instead of saturated.

INGREDIENTS

1 small sweet potato
½ avocado canned tuna in spring water,
the size and thickness of your palm, drained
1 tsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt
juice of ½ lime
1 tsp fresh, finely chopped chives, plus a little extra to garnish

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4).

Prick the sweet potato all over with a fork, place it on a baking tray and bake for 40 minutes or until crispy on the outside and soft in the middle.

Meanwhile, prepare the tuna topping.

In a bowl, mash the avocado, then add the tuna, yogurt, lime juice, and chives. Mix, cover, and put in the fridge until the potato is cooked.

When the potato is fluffy on the inside, slice it lengthways and pinch to open. Fill it with the tuna avonnoise and garnish with the chopped chives.

JERK SALMON WITH GRIDDLED VEGETABLES

Serves 1

Jerk spices can be used on pretty much any meat or fish. However, I like them best when combined with the full flavour of salmon. This quick and simple recipe is served with a portion of delicious colourful vegetables. Salmon is rich in omega-3 fatty acids, which can help reduce inflammation, improve heart health, and support brain function.

INGREDIENTS

1 salmon fillet, the size and thickness of your palm
1 tsp dried mixed herbs
½ tsp allspice
½ tsp cinnamon
½ tsp ground white pepper
1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
4 vine cherry tomatoes
5 button (closed cup) mushrooms
2 large slices aubergine (eggplant)
8 slices courgette (zucchini)

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4).

Put the salmon on a plate. Mix all the spices together and then rub them over the salmon to coat.

Transfer the fish to a non-stick baking tray and roast in the oven for 15–20 minutes, or until cooked.

Meanwhile, add the olive oil to a griddle or frying pan and cook the vegetables to your liking.

Arrange the salmon and vegetables on the plate of your choice and serve.

KATSU TOFU BURGER

Serves 1

All the flavours of a Japanese curry, in the form of a burger. That's right, I'm mixing it up with a simple twist that whips up a storm, combining the sweet and spice from the katsu with the smooth creaminess of the tofu. Add a bit of crunch with radish, and it is just good food!

firm tofu, 1½ x the size and thickness of your palm 1 tbsp almond milk (enough to cover the tofu when dipping)
1 tbsp flaxseeds (enough to cover the tofu when dipping)
freshly ground black pepper
1 wholemeal flatbread
1 radish, thinly sliced few ribbons of cucumber (I use a potato peeler to slice) ½ spring (green) onion, sliced small handful of salad leaves

KATSU CURRY SAUCE

½ tsp grated fresh ginger root
1 garlic clove, crushed
½ red onion, finely chopped
1 tsp coconut oil
½ tsp garam masala
½ tsp mild curry powder
tiny squeeze of lemon juice
1 heaped tsp full-fat Greek yogurt OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4).

Dip the tofu in the almond milk to cover and then coat with the flaxseed.

Season the tofu generously with black pepper, place on a non-stick baking tray and cook for 20–25 minutes, turning halfway through.

Meanwhile, prepare the katsu sauce. In a small pan, fry the ginger, garlic, and onion in the coconut oil on a low heat for 5 minutes. Add the garam masala and curry powder and stir. Then add 100ml (6½ tbsp) water, stir, and bring to the boil. Finally, add the lemon juice and yogurt.

Transfer the mix to a blender and blitz for 1 minute until it has a sauce-like consistency.

When everything is ready, load the flatbread with the tofu burger and the salad. Drizzle over the katsu sauce and serve.

LEMON AND PARSLEY CHICKEN ROULADE

Serves 2

You've got to roll with it! This might just be the easiest showstopper we've got. With zesty lemon, tender chicken, spiced sweet potatoes, and creamy broccoli mash packed with vitamins C and K, it's bold, wholesome, and guaranteed to impress.

INGREDIENTS

1 handful size sweet potato
2 tsp extra virgin olive oil
½ tsp paprika
Chicken breast, 2 x the size and thickness of your palm
1 lemon, zested and juiced
4 sprigs curly parsley, finely chopped
1 tsp garlic granules
½ tsp white pepper
4 large florets of broccoli
Fresh ground black pepper
1 tsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 200°C (180°C fan/400°F/Gas 6).

Cut the sweet potato into wedges and place in a bowl, then add the olive and paprika and toss the wedges until they are well coated. Transfer them to a baking tray and spread out evenly then place into the oven.

Sandwich the chicken breasts between two pieces of greaseproof paper, then use a rolling pin to bash the chicken until approx 1cm thick. Uncover the chicken and sprinkle the lemon zest evenly over both pieces of chicken, followed by the chopped parsley and finally the garlic granules and white pepper.

Place a large piece of greaseproof paper into a baking dish, then tightly roll each chicken breast into another piece of greaseproof paper and twist or fold one end of each chicken parcel. Pour the lemon juice into the open end of each parcel then close this end also. Place them into the lined baking dish and cook in the oven for 20 minutes until the chicken is cooked through.

10 minutes before the end of cooking the chicken and wedges, boil the broccoli. Cook it until it is soft and then drain in a sieve. Return to the pan and mash with a potato masher or a fork. Add a generous grind of black pepper and the greek yogurt and stir well.

Divide this broccoli mixture onto two warmed plates. Unwrap the paper parcel and take the chicken out and on to a chopping board to slice the chicken roulade then plate up and drizzle the lemon juice remaining in the baking tray over from the chicken, add the sweet potatoes on the plate and enjoy!

LENTIL AND MUSHROOM HOTPOT

Serves 3

INGREDIENTS

3 tsp extra virgin olive oil
½ small white onion, finely chopped
3 cloves of garlic, chopped
1 handful of mushrooms, finely chopped
1 small handful of sliced leek
5 leaves of fresh sage, finely chopped
Ground black pepper
1 tsp dried thyme
1 tin of lentils, drained and rinsed (400g)
3 palm size and thickness amounts of Quorn mince
½ tin of chopped tomatoes (400g)
1 tbsp tomato puree
400ml water
Bay leaf
1 handful of sweet potato
½ tsp white pepper

METHOD

Preheat your oven to 180°C.

In a saucepan add 1 teaspoon of extra virgin olive oil, onion, garlic, mushrooms, leek, sage, ground pepper and thyme and gently fry over a medium heat until soft.

Once soft, add the lentils, Quorn, tinned tomatoes, tomato puree and water and bring to the boil. Add the bay leaf and simmer for 10 minutes.

Transfer the ingredients from the saucepan to an oven proof dish.

In a mixing bowl, place your slices of sweet potato and 2 teaspoons of olive oil and white pepper and mix well.

Place the sweet potato slices over the hot pot and bake for 15 minutes or until the sweet potato is soft.

Then remove from the oven and serve.

LENTIL AND MUSHROOM RISOTTO

Serves 1

Okay, so for all you foodies out there, this isn't risotto as you know it. For a start, it doesn't have a grain of rice in sight. Lentils, however, are one of my favourite superfoods and the perfect option to boost your protein intake. Lentils are naturally gluten free, making them a delicious staple in a gluten-free kitchen.

INGREDIENTS

1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
¼ stalk celery, thinly sliced
1 shallot, sliced small handful mushrooms, sliced
1 garlic clove, crushed
4 sprigs fresh sage, stalks removed, leaves chopped 400g (14oz) can of Puy or bijoux lentils, drained and rinsed OR 100g (3½oz) dry Puy lentils
3 cherry tomatoes, quartered
½ handful fresh spinach

FOR THE TZATZIKI

1 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt
½ cucumber, grated
½ bunch of fresh, chopped mint (stalks removed)
1 sprig fresh, chopped dill
1 or 2 garlic cloves, crushed
½ lemon, squeezed
freshly ground black pepper

METHOD

To make the tzatziki, combine all the ingredients in a bowl, finish with ground black pepper to taste. Leave to one side .

Gently heat the oil in a large non-stick pan, then add the celery, shallot, mushrooms, garlic, and sage and cook for around 3–5 minutes on a medium heat or until they are just starting to soften.

Now add the lentils and tomatoes and cook until warmed through.

Add the spinach and cook until slightly wilted.

Season with ground black pepper, top with a tablespoon of tzatziki, and serve.

LOADED NACHOS

Serves 2

Making nachos from sweet potato wraps means they're gluten-free, high in fibre, and low in calories, as well as crispy and crunchy and perfect for loading! I always keep cans of beans in the store cupboard as they're such a great source of plant protein. However, it's important to look for brands with 'no added sugar' and that are 'low sodium'. I do rinse mine with water over a bowl as this reduces the sodium content even more.

INGREDIENTS

2 tsp extra virgin olive oil
½ white or red onion, finely chopped
1 red chilli, finely chopped
1 yellow pepper, finely chopped
2 garlic cloves, finely chopped
1 tsp ground cumin
½ tsp ground cinnamon
½ tsp cayenne pepper
2 x 400g (14oz) cans of mixed beans (kidney, pinto, cannellini – all are good), drained and rinsed
2 tbsp tomato purée
bunch of fresh coriander, finely chopped
2 sweet potato wraps

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 200°C (180°C fan/400°F/Gas 6) and line a baking tray with parchment paper.

Heat the oil in a non-stick pan over a medium heat and cook the onion, chilli, and pepper for 4–5 minutes, until they are soft and caramelized. Add the garlic and cook, stirring, for a further minute. Add the spices to the pan and cook until fragrant, then add the beans and stir to coat.

Add the tomato purée with 5 tablespoons of water and bring to the boil, then reduce to a simmer and cook for around 10 minutes.

Add a good handful of chopped coriander. Reserve a little for a garnish but do be generous as it's this ingredient that really makes the dish.

Now make the nachos. Cut the wraps into small triangle shapes and spread over the baking tray. Cook in your oven for just 5 minutes, turning halfway through.

Once the nachos are lovely and crispy, serve the chilli in a bowl topped with the remaining coriander, then add the nachos ready for loading!

MALDAVIAN WRAPS

Serves 2

The Maldives has got to be one of my favourite places. I was inspired to create this dish after tucking into their traditional breakfast, called mas huni. It's a very simple mix of tuna, onion, coconut, and chilli but everything is very finely chopped and all the flavours are so tasty together!

INGREDIENTS

canned tuna in spring water
(2 x the size and thickness of your palm), drained

1 tsp desiccated coconut

1 red chilli, deseeded and finely sliced

freshly ground black pepper

2 sweet potato or wholemeal wraps

2 small tomatoes, sliced

½ small red onion, sliced

1 avocado, sliced

2 lime wedges

small handful of fresh, finely chopped coriander

METHOD

Place the tuna in a bowl and mix with the coconut and chilli and season with freshly ground black pepper.

Heat the wraps – either warm them in a low oven for 5 minutes or dry-fry in a hot pan for about a minute.

Place the wraps on a plate and divide the tuna mixture between them. Top with the tomatoes, onion and avocado but be careful not to overfill as otherwise the wraps will fall apart.

Squeeze over the lime juice (to taste), scatter with coriander.

Fold up the wraps and enjoy!

MEXICAN BEAN BOWL WITH JEWELLED BULGUR WHEAT

Serves 1

INGREDIENTS

30g dry bulgur wheat (90g cooked weight)
1 heaped tbsp pomegranate seeds
1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
½ red onion, finely chopped
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 tin of mixed beans (400g), drained and rinsed
1 fresh green chilli, finely sliced
1 tsp ground cumin
½ a tin of tomatoes (400g)
Juice of ½ lime
1 heaped tbsp fresh coriander, chopped

METHOD

Cook the bulgur wheat following the instructions on the packet, drain and stir through the pomegranate seeds. Put to one side.

Warm the extra virgin olive oil in a non-stick pan and fry the red onion for 5 minutes. Add the crushed clove of garlic and cook for a further 2 minutes. Add the mixed beans, chilli, cumin, tomatoes, lime and chopped coriander and simmer for 5 minutes.

Serve the beans in your bowl, along with a portion of the jewelled bulgur wheat and enjoy!

MEXICAN BLACK BEAN CHILLI

Serves 2

A warming, homemade chilli is one of my favourite types of comfort food, and this plant-based version is so full of nutrition and flavour, and easy to whip up – in less than 30 minutes.

INGREDIENTS

2 tsp extra virgin olive oil
1 small onion, finely chopped
1 red pepper, finely chopped
2 garlic cloves, finely chopped
½ red chilli, finely chopped
1 tsp ground cumin
1 tsp ground coriander
1 tsp paprika
3 tbsp tomato purée
90g (3½oz) dried red split lentils
400g (14oz) can of black beans, drained and rinsed fresh, finely chopped coriander, to garnish

METHOD

Place a non-stick pan over a low to medium heat and cook the onion and pepper until softened. Add the garlic, chilli, and spices and stir everything together until combined.

Add the tomato purée with 400ml (14fl oz) water, then bring to the boil. Reduce the heat, add the lentils and simmer in the juices for around 10 minutes until softened. Finally, add the black beans and cook until warmed through.

Garnish with chopped coriander and serve.

MIXED BEAN CHILLI AND SWEET POTATO

Serves 3

A hearty chilli, perfectly combining the flavours of the spices with the herby lime quinoa. Refreshingly simple, colourful and appealing, this impressive dish is the ultimate comfort food to share.

INGREDIENTS

handful of sweet potato, peeled and diced
1 tsp rapeseed (Canola) oil
1 small white onion, finely chopped
4 garlic cloves, chopped
1 tsp smoked paprika
1 tsp mild chilli powder
1 tsp ground cumin
1 tsp ground coriander
2 x 400g (14oz) cans of chopped tomatoes large handful of quinoa juice and zest of 1 lime handful of fresh, chopped
coriander (cilantro)
3 x 400g (14oz) cans of mixed beans, drained and rinsed handful of sweetcorn 1 avocado, diced large pinch of pumpkin seeds
3 wedges of lime
A few slices of chilli
(optional)

METHOD

Bring a pot of water to the boil and cook the sweet potatoes for 10 minutes until soft. Drain and set aside.

To make the chilli, place a pan over a medium-low heat, add the rapeseed oil, and gently cook the onion, garlic, and spices until soft. Add the canned tomatoes to the pan and simmer for 10 minutes.

While the chilli is cooking, prepare the quinoa, following the packet instructions. Once the quinoa is ready, season with the lime juice and zest and add half the chopped coriander.

Now add the cooked sweet potato, drained beans, sweetcorn, and the rest of the chopped coriander to the chilli and continue cooking over a medium-low heat until all the ingredients are heated thoroughly.

Divide the quinoa into three large bowls and add the bean chilli. Garnish with avocado, pumpkin seeds, lime wedge, fresh coriander and slices of chilli.

MONKFISH VINDALOO SKEWERS

Serves 2

Packed full of vitamin B12, and omega-3 fatty acids, monkfish is a stellar choice for boosting heart health and optimal brain function. Its steak-like texture also makes it the ultimate hero to boss your skewers.

INGREDIENTS

monkfish fillet, 2 x the size and thickness of your palm, cut into large cubes

1 tsp garam masala

¼ tsp hot chilli powder

1 tsp grated fresh ginger root

1 garlic clove, crushed

2 tsp extra virgin olive oil

½ small red onion, cut into big chunks

4 baby plum tomatoes

TO SERVE

handful of mixed salad leaves

1 tbsp raita (optional)

2 lemon wedges

FOR THE RAITA

400g (14oz) full-fat Greek yogurt OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt

½ cucumber, grated and lightly squeezed to remove excess water

½ bunch fresh, chopped coriander (cilantro)

½ bunch fresh, chopped mint

½ tsp garam masala

1–2 garlic cloves, crushed

½ lime, squeezed

METHOD

Coat the cubes of monkfish in the spices, ginger, garlic, and olive oil.

Divide the coated monkfish into two equal portions and thread it on to two skewers with the onion and tomatoes. Place under a medium-high grill (broiler) for approximately 15 minutes, turning frequently until the fish is cooked through.

Prepare the raita by combining all the ingredients in a bowl.

Serve on your favourite plates with a handful of leaves, a tablespoon of raita, if using, and a wedge of lemon.

MOROCCAN CHICKEN TAGINE

Serves 1

This tagine is so easy to make with just a handful of ingredients. The essential one here is ras el hanout, which is actually a mix of eight spices, as it's this that provides the North African authenticity. I love to serve it with a handful of pungent, peppery watercress – an incredible superfood that contains significant amounts of iron as well as vitamins.

INGREDIENTS

1 tsp coconut oil
1 red pepper, chopped
½ small red onion, chopped
1 chicken breast, the size and thickness of your palm, cut into cubes
3 tsp ras el hanout
pinch of cinnamon
pinch of chilli flakes
1 garlic clove, crushed
pinch of white pepper
1 tbsp tomato purée
1 tbsp fresh, finely chopped coriander handful of watercress or leafy salad

METHOD

Heat the oil in a non-stick pan over a medium heat and fry the pepper and onion until soft. Add the chicken and cook, turning regularly until lightly browned all over.

Add the ras el hanout, cinnamon, chilli flakes, garlic, and white pepper and stir the chicken until thoroughly coated in the aromatic spices. Add the tomato purée with 150ml (scant 5fl oz) of water and mix well to combine.

Simmer for 15–20 minutes, or until the chicken is cooked through. Serve garnished with some chopped coriander and a handful of watercress or your favourite salad leaves.

MOROCCAN SEA BREAM FILLET ON A BED OF SWEET POTATO

Serves 1

Simple to prepare but with pretty special results, this dish mixes the delicateness of the white fish with the powerful authentic flavours of Morocco.

INGREDIENTS

½ handful amount of sweet potato, peeled and cubed

1 tsp coconut oil

½ green pepper, chopped

1 clove of garlic, crushed

2 tsp ras-el-hanout

Small pinch of cinnamon

1 tsp tomato purée

1 tsp mixed herbs

100ml water

Palm size and thickness amount of sea bream fillets

Squeeze of fresh lemon

Fresh coriander to garnish

METHOD

First cube and boil your sweet potatoes for 15 minutes. You want them soft but not falling apart so keep an eye on them.

While your potatoes are boiling you can prepare your Moroccan sauce. Heat the coconut oil in a small pan on a medium heat. Add the pepper, garlic and spices cooking until soft.

Add the tomato purée and your mixed herbs to your pan with 100ml of water and simmer for 10 minutes.

Delicately grill your fish fillets for 4 minutes each side on a medium grill heat. Once cooked, cover with foil to keep warm while you start to assemble your dish.

Drain the potatoes and present nicely on a plate, place the fish on your cubed potatoes and then top with your spicy sauce.

Garnish with the coriander and serve.

ORANGE AND GINGER TEMPEH

Serves 4

This dish is all about the tempeh. This meat alternative, made from soya beans (soybeans) absorbs flavour easily, so it's perfect for the sticky orange, chilli, ginger, and fragrant basil marinade.

INGREDIENTS

tempeh, 6 x the size and thickness of your palm, cut into finger size strips

1 head of pak choi (bok choy), stalk removed handful of baby corn handful of green beans

handful of tenderstem broccoli (broccolini)

4 tsp sesame oil

2 tbsp sesame seeds

1 orange, peeled and segmented handful of fresh coriander (cilantro) leaves

FOR THE MARINADE

juice and zest of 2 oranges

2 fresh red chillies, deseeded and finely chopped

1 heaped tsp grated fresh ginger root

5 garlic cloves, crushed

handful of fresh, chopped basil

METHOD

Add the marinade ingredients to a mixing bowl and stir well, then stir in the sliced tempeh until coated.

Bring a pot of water to the boil. Once boiling, add all the vegetables for 1 minute, then drain.

Heat a non-stick frying pan, add the sesame oil and over a medium heat add the pieces of tempeh (reserve any excess marinade). Cook the tempeh on both sides for 1 minute until golden.

Now add all vegetables and sesame seeds to the same pan and stir-fry for 2 minutes with any excess marinade.

Serve in large bowls and garnish with orange segments and fresh coriander.

PAN FRIED SEA BASS WITH GARLIC AND CHILLI

Serves 2

I like sea bass but you can choose freshwater bass if you prefer. Like most white fish, bass is an excellent source of protein and it tastes great with the chilli, garlic, and this medley of Italian-style vegetables.

INGREDIENTS

2 tsp extra virgin olive oil
1 red pepper, sliced
1 large courgette, sliced
1 large red onion, sliced
2 sea bass fillets, the size and thickness of your palm
pinch of chilli flakes
1 small garlic clove, finely chopped pinch of fresh, finely chopped coriander, to garnish wedge of lemon

METHOD

Heat half the olive oil in a frying pan over a medium heat and stir-fry all the vegetables until they are cooked to your liking. Transfer to a dish, cover to keep warm, and set aside.

Return the pan to a low heat with the remaining olive oil and add the sea bass fillets. Season with half the chilli and garlic and cook for approximately 10 minutes, until lightly browned and cooked through. Gently turn the fish with a spatula, scatter over the remaining chilli and garlic and cook until this side is also lightly browned.

Divide the vegetables between two serving plates and place a sea bass fillet on top. Garnish with coriander and serve with a wedge of lemon for squeezing.

PINEAPPLE AND COCONUT CURRY

Serves 2

INGREDIENTS

1 Green thai chilli
1 thumb size piece of ginger
1 clove of garlic
1 stalk of lemongrass
Small bunch of fresh coriander, chopped
1 tsp coconut oil
1 small aubergine, cut into small cubes
3 palm size and thickness amounts of Quorn pieces
½ small pineapple, diced
3 tbsp coconut milk (carton)
Juice of ½ a lime

METHOD

Blitz together chilli, ginger, garlic, lemongrass and most of the coriander in a food processor to make a rough paste.

In a non-stick pan, heat the coconut oil, add the aubergine and fry for 8-10 minutes until softened.

Add the Quorn pieces and curry paste, stir well to coat everything thoroughly with the paste and cook for a further 5 minutes.

Add the diced pineapple and coconut milk and cook for 1-2 minutes.

Serve in your favourite bowls with the lime juice and sprinkle over the remaining coriander. Enjoy!

PLANT-BASED MINCE KAPUSKA

Serves 2

A meat-free version of the classic Turkish cabbage stew recipe. This is humble old-world comfort food that's also good for you! The addition of fennel seeds and apricots give this dish a rich, sweet, slightly liquorice-scented flavour.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 red pepper, whole
- 1 teaspoon of extra virgin olive oil
- 1 white onion, finely chopped
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 3 palm size and thickness amounts of Quorn mince or soya mince
- 2 tomatoes, peeled and chopped
- 1 tablespoon and 1 teaspoon of tomato purée
- ½ teaspoon of chilli flakes
- 1 teaspoon of fennel seeds
- 6 olives, finely sliced
- Black pepper
- 350ml water
- 1 large handful white or savoy cabbage, shredded
- 4 dried apricots, finely chopped

METHOD

Preheat your oven to 200°C. Place the whole red pepper on a baking tray and bake in the oven for 20 - 30 minutes until slightly charred.

Take the baked red pepper out of the oven and leave it to one side to cool.

In a non-stick pan, warm the extra virgin olive oil on the hob at a medium heat and gently fry the onions and garlic until the onion is softened and translucent. Add the Quorn or soya mince to the pan and stir fry gently for 5 minutes.

Peel the 2 tomatoes (score the skins, place in a small heat-proof bowl or large mug and cover with boiling water. Leave for a few minutes and the skins should peel off), roughly chop and add to the pan along with 1 tablespoon of tomato purée, chilli flakes and fennel seeds.

Take the cooled red pepper and remove the skin, stalk and seeds. Place in a food processor with 1 teaspoon of tomato purée and blitz to a paste. Add the pepper paste to the pan, along with the chopped olives.

Season with black pepper, then add 350ml water to the pan, bring to the boil, throw in the shredded cabbage and reduce to a low heat. Cover and simmer for 20 minutes.

Stir in the chopped apricots and serve in your favourite bowls.

QUESADILLAS

Serves 1

No cheese! No problem! My vegan quesadillas are rich with black beans, smooth with smashed avocado and zingy with tomato salsa... Olé!

INGREDIENTS

Half a handful of sweet potato, diced

Tin of black beans, drained and rinsed (400g)

1 teaspoon of smoked paprika

1 teaspoon of Cajun spice

Handful of fresh coriander, finely chopped, plus extra to garnish

Juice and zest of 1 lime, plus a wedge to garnish

1 wholemeal tortilla

For the smashed avocado:

½ an avocado

1 red pepper, finely chopped

Juice and zest of ½ a lime

Pinch of chilli flakes

For the salsa:

1 teaspoon of extra virgin olive oil

2 garlic cloves, finely chopped

Handful of fresh basil, finely chopped

1 tablespoon of tomato puree

Tin of chopped tomatoes (400g)

Freshly ground black pepper

METHOD

Bring a pan of water to the boil and cook the sweet potato for around 10 minutes until soft, then drain and set aside in a large bowl.

In another large bowl, place the black beans, paprika, Cajun spice, coriander, lime zest and juice, and mix together roughly with a fork - you want a little texture, not a smooth paste. Spread the mixture across the wholemeal tortilla, add the sweet potato and fold to make a sandwich.

Now make the smashed avocado. Place all ingredients in a bowl and mash with a fork to combine.

Now make the salsa. Heat the olive oil in a frying pan and fry the garlic over a gentle heat. Add the basil and tomato puree and cook, stirring, for 2 minutes, then add the tomatoes, season with black pepper, and simmer for 10-15 minutes to let the flavours combine and the tomatoes break down.

In a dry, non-stick pan over a medium heat, cook the quesadillas for 2 minutes on each side until crisp and golden. Serve with your smashed avocado, a heaped tablespoon of tomato salsa, a wedge of lime and garnish with a sprig of coriander.

The tomato salsa can be stored in an airtight container and will keep in the fridge for a few days. Alternatively, you can freeze it in freezer bags and it will keep for up to a month.

QUORN MOCKTAIL

Serves 1

INGREDIENTS

1 tbsp Alpro plain 'no sugars' yogurt

1 heaped tsp tomato purée

Pinch of paprika

Squeeze of lemon juice

Handful of shredded little gem lettuce

2 cherry tomatoes quartered

½ an avocado

1 ½ palm size and thickness amounts of Quorn pieces

Sprig of parsley to garnish

Wedge of lemon

METHOD

First make your Marie rose sauce. In a bowl, mix your yogurt, tomato purée, paprika and a small squeeze of lemon juice until it turns into that familiar flamingo pink colour.

Layer your stemmed glass with shredded little gem lettuce, tomatoes and avocado.

Dry fry the Quorn pieces to brown them slightly and heat them through. Add the Quorn pieces to your Marie rose sauce and mix well, then spoon on top of your salad layers in the glass bowl.

Garnish the top of your glass with a sprinkle of paprika, sprig of parsley and serve with a wedge of lemon.

QUORN SALAD WITH GRIDDLED NECTARINE AND MINT

Serves 2

The unexpected sweet caramelization of the griddled nectarines, paired so effortlessly with fresh mint, makes this unassuming warm salad a summer triumph! The addition of creamy avocado and peppery rocket moves it right up the line to a super salad sensation.

INGREDIENTS

1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
juice and zest of 1 lime
2 tbsp fresh, finely chopped mint, plus a few leaves to garnish
1 garlic clove, crushed
Quorn pieces, 3 x the size and thickness of your palm handful of fine green beans, halved
2 nectarines, each cut into 8 wedges
1 small red onion, sliced into rings
1 Little Gem lettuce, shredded
1 small avocado, sliced handful of rocket (arugula)

METHOD

Mix the olive oil, lime juice and zest, and chopped mint in a bowl and add the garlic. Divide the mixture into two bowls, and set one aside.

Add the Quorn pieces to one of the bowls containing the zesty mixture, stirring them through until they are coated.

Place a non-stick frying pan over a low heat and add the Quorn pieces, cooking for about 5 minutes until they are warmed through.

Bring a small pan of water to the boil and add the green beans. Cook them for 3–4 minutes until tender.

At the same time, griddle the nectarines for a few minutes in a griddle pan over a high heat, turning once, until slightly charred.

Drain the beans and toss them with the red onion in the remaining
To serve, layer the salad into two bowls, starting with the lettuce and some of the rocket, then the beans and onions, followed by the Quorn pieces. Add the griddled nectarine slices, avocado, rocket, and garnish with the remaining mint leaves.

QUORN, SWEET POTATO AND COCONUT CURRY

Serves 2

This dish is perfect for a super-quick supper and can even be reheated or eaten cold for lunch on the go. I love using a plant-based meat alternative as the texture is perfect for absorbing all the delicious flavours. Spinach makes the dish feel authentically Indian and adds a lovely bit of colour and a good nutritional hit.

2 handfuls of diced sweet potato
1 tsp coconut oil
½ red onion, finely chopped
2 garlic cloves, finely chopped
pinch of chilli flakes
Quorn cubes, 3 x the size and thickness of your palm
1 tsp fennel seeds
1 tsp ground cumin
1 tsp garam masala
¼ tsp white pepper
2 tbsp coconut milk small handful of fresh spinach
juice of ½ lemon
pinch of desiccated coconut
small handful of fresh, finely chopped coriander
½ red chilli, finely chopped (optional)

METHOD

Bring a pan of water to the boil and cook the sweet potato for around 15 minutes until soft, then drain and set aside.

While your sweet potatoes are boiling, you can quickly prepare the rest of the dish. Heat the coconut oil in a non-stick pan over a low heat and cook the onion until it caramelizes – this slow cooking will allow it to release all its lovely sweetness. Add the garlic and chilli flakes and cook for a further minute.

Add the Quorn along with all the spices and stir until everything is coated. Add the cooked sweet potato to the pan with 3½ tablespoons of water, bring to a simmer and cook for 5 minutes.

Add the coconut milk and spinach and wait for the spinach to wilt slightly, then stir in the lemon juice. Serve in a bowl, garnished with desiccated coconut, freshly chopped coriander, and a little chilli if you like extra heat!

RED LENTIL RAGU

Serves 3

I love Italian food, so this is my healthy plant-based version of a traditional Italian dish. Clean, fresh, tasty and filling!

INGREDIENTS

2 courgettes spiralized into courgetti

300g dry red lentils, rinsed well

Boiled water, double the volume of the lentils

2 tsp extra virgin olive oil

1 red onion, chopped

2 cloves garlic, crushed

Tin of chopped tomatoes (400g)

1 tbsp tomato purée

2 tsp mixed Italian herbs

½ tsp white pepper

12 fresh basil leaves, chopped saving 1 for garnish

6 olives chopped finely

METHOD

First prepare your courgetti using your spiralizer.

Now you are ready to prepare your ragu. First you need to cook your lentils. Boil a pan of water twice the volume of your lentils and let your lentils simmer for about 10 minutes or until soft, drain well and set aside.

Heat the oil in your large non-stick frying pan and fry the chopped onion and garlic on a moderate heat.

Add your tinned tomatoes, tomato purée, herbs, pepper, basil, olives and drained lentils to your pan and mix well and simmer on a low to medium heat for a further 10 minutes. Remember to save some basil for a garnish.

Dry fry the courgetti, stirring continuously until softened (usually around 1-2 minutes).

Serve in your favourite bowl and garnish with the remaining basil.

ROASTED TOMATO AND RED PEPPER SOUP

Serves 1

INGREDIENTS

2 tomatoes, cut into half
½ a red pepper, chopped
½ red onion, chopped
2 cloves of garlic
1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
½ tsp white pepper
2 tsp smoked paprika
1 ½ palm size and thickness amount of silken tofu
200ml boiling water
A handful of fresh basil
(save some for garnish)
Cracked black pepper

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 180°C.

Add your tomatoes, red pepper, red onion, garlic, extra virgin olive oil, white pepper and smoked paprika to a mixing bowl and mix well.

Transfer all of your ingredients from the mixing bowl to a non-stick baking tray and place in the oven for 15 minutes.

Remove your tray from the oven and place ingredients into a medium saucepan, now add the silken tofu, boiling water and simmer for 5 minutes.

Transfer all ingredients from the saucepan to your blender, add fresh basil and blitz until smooth.

Serve in a bowl, garnish with basil leaves and a good grind of cracked black pepper.

Enjoy!

SALMON AND GOJI BERRY CURRY

Serves 2

The goji berry is such a great ingredient to include in your diet as it provides so many benefits. It's good for the immune system, removes toxins from the body, promotes healthy skin, helps stabilize blood sugars, and can improve anxiety, depression, and sleep, to name a few. These little red berries have a sweet, slightly sour taste, which compliments the salmon in this spicy tomato-based curry. This is seriously one of my best dishes!

INGREDIENTS

2 salmon fillets (the size of your palm), skin removed and flesh cut into cubes

75g (2½oz) bulgur wheat (225g/8oz cooked weight)

2 tsp extra virgin olive oil

½ tsp cumin seeds

½ tsp mustard seeds

½ tsp coriander seeds

1 garlic clove

1 tsp grated fresh ginger root

½ tsp turmeric

2 tsp goji berries

1 tsp curry leaves

½ fresh chilli, deseeded and finely chopped

3 tsp tomato purée

handful of rocket, to serve

1 tsp fresh, finely chopped coriander, to garnish (optional)

wedge of lemon, to serve

METHOD

First, remove the skin of your salmon and cut into cubes.

Bring a pan of water to the boil and cook the bulgur wheat according to the packet instructions – around 20 minutes. Drain and set aside.

Meanwhile, heat the olive oil in a non-stick pan over a medium heat and fry the cumin, mustard, and coriander seeds until they become fragrant and start to pop. Remove from the heat and transfer to a bowl to allow to cool a little.

Return the pan to the hob and gently fry the garlic with the ginger and turmeric for 2 minutes, stirring all the time to ensure everything gets a nice coating in the flavoured oil.

Add the goji berries, curry leaves, chilli, and tomato purée to the pan, along with 100ml (3½fl oz) of water. Bring to the boil, stirring, then reduce the heat and simmer for 3 minutes.

Fold the salmon cubes gently into the sauce and simmer for a further 5 minutes.

Spoon the bulgur wheat onto a plate with a small handful of rocket and spoon the curry on top. Finish with a garnish of coriander (if using), and serve with a wedge of lemon.

SALMON AND PAK CHOI WITH GINGER AND GARLIC

Serves 1

This dish is so easy to make but packed full of goodness. The pak choi is full of fibre, vitamins, minerals, and antioxidants, and I like to cook it so that it retains a slight crunch. Black sesame seeds, unlike white, are still in their hull, which means they have a little more texture and certainly more nutritional value.

INGREDIENTS

1 garlic clove, finely chopped
1 tsp grated fresh ginger root
½ fresh red chilli, finely chopped
1 salmon fillet, the size and thickness of your palm
1 tsp black sesame seeds handful of pak choi
1 tsp sesame oil

METHOD

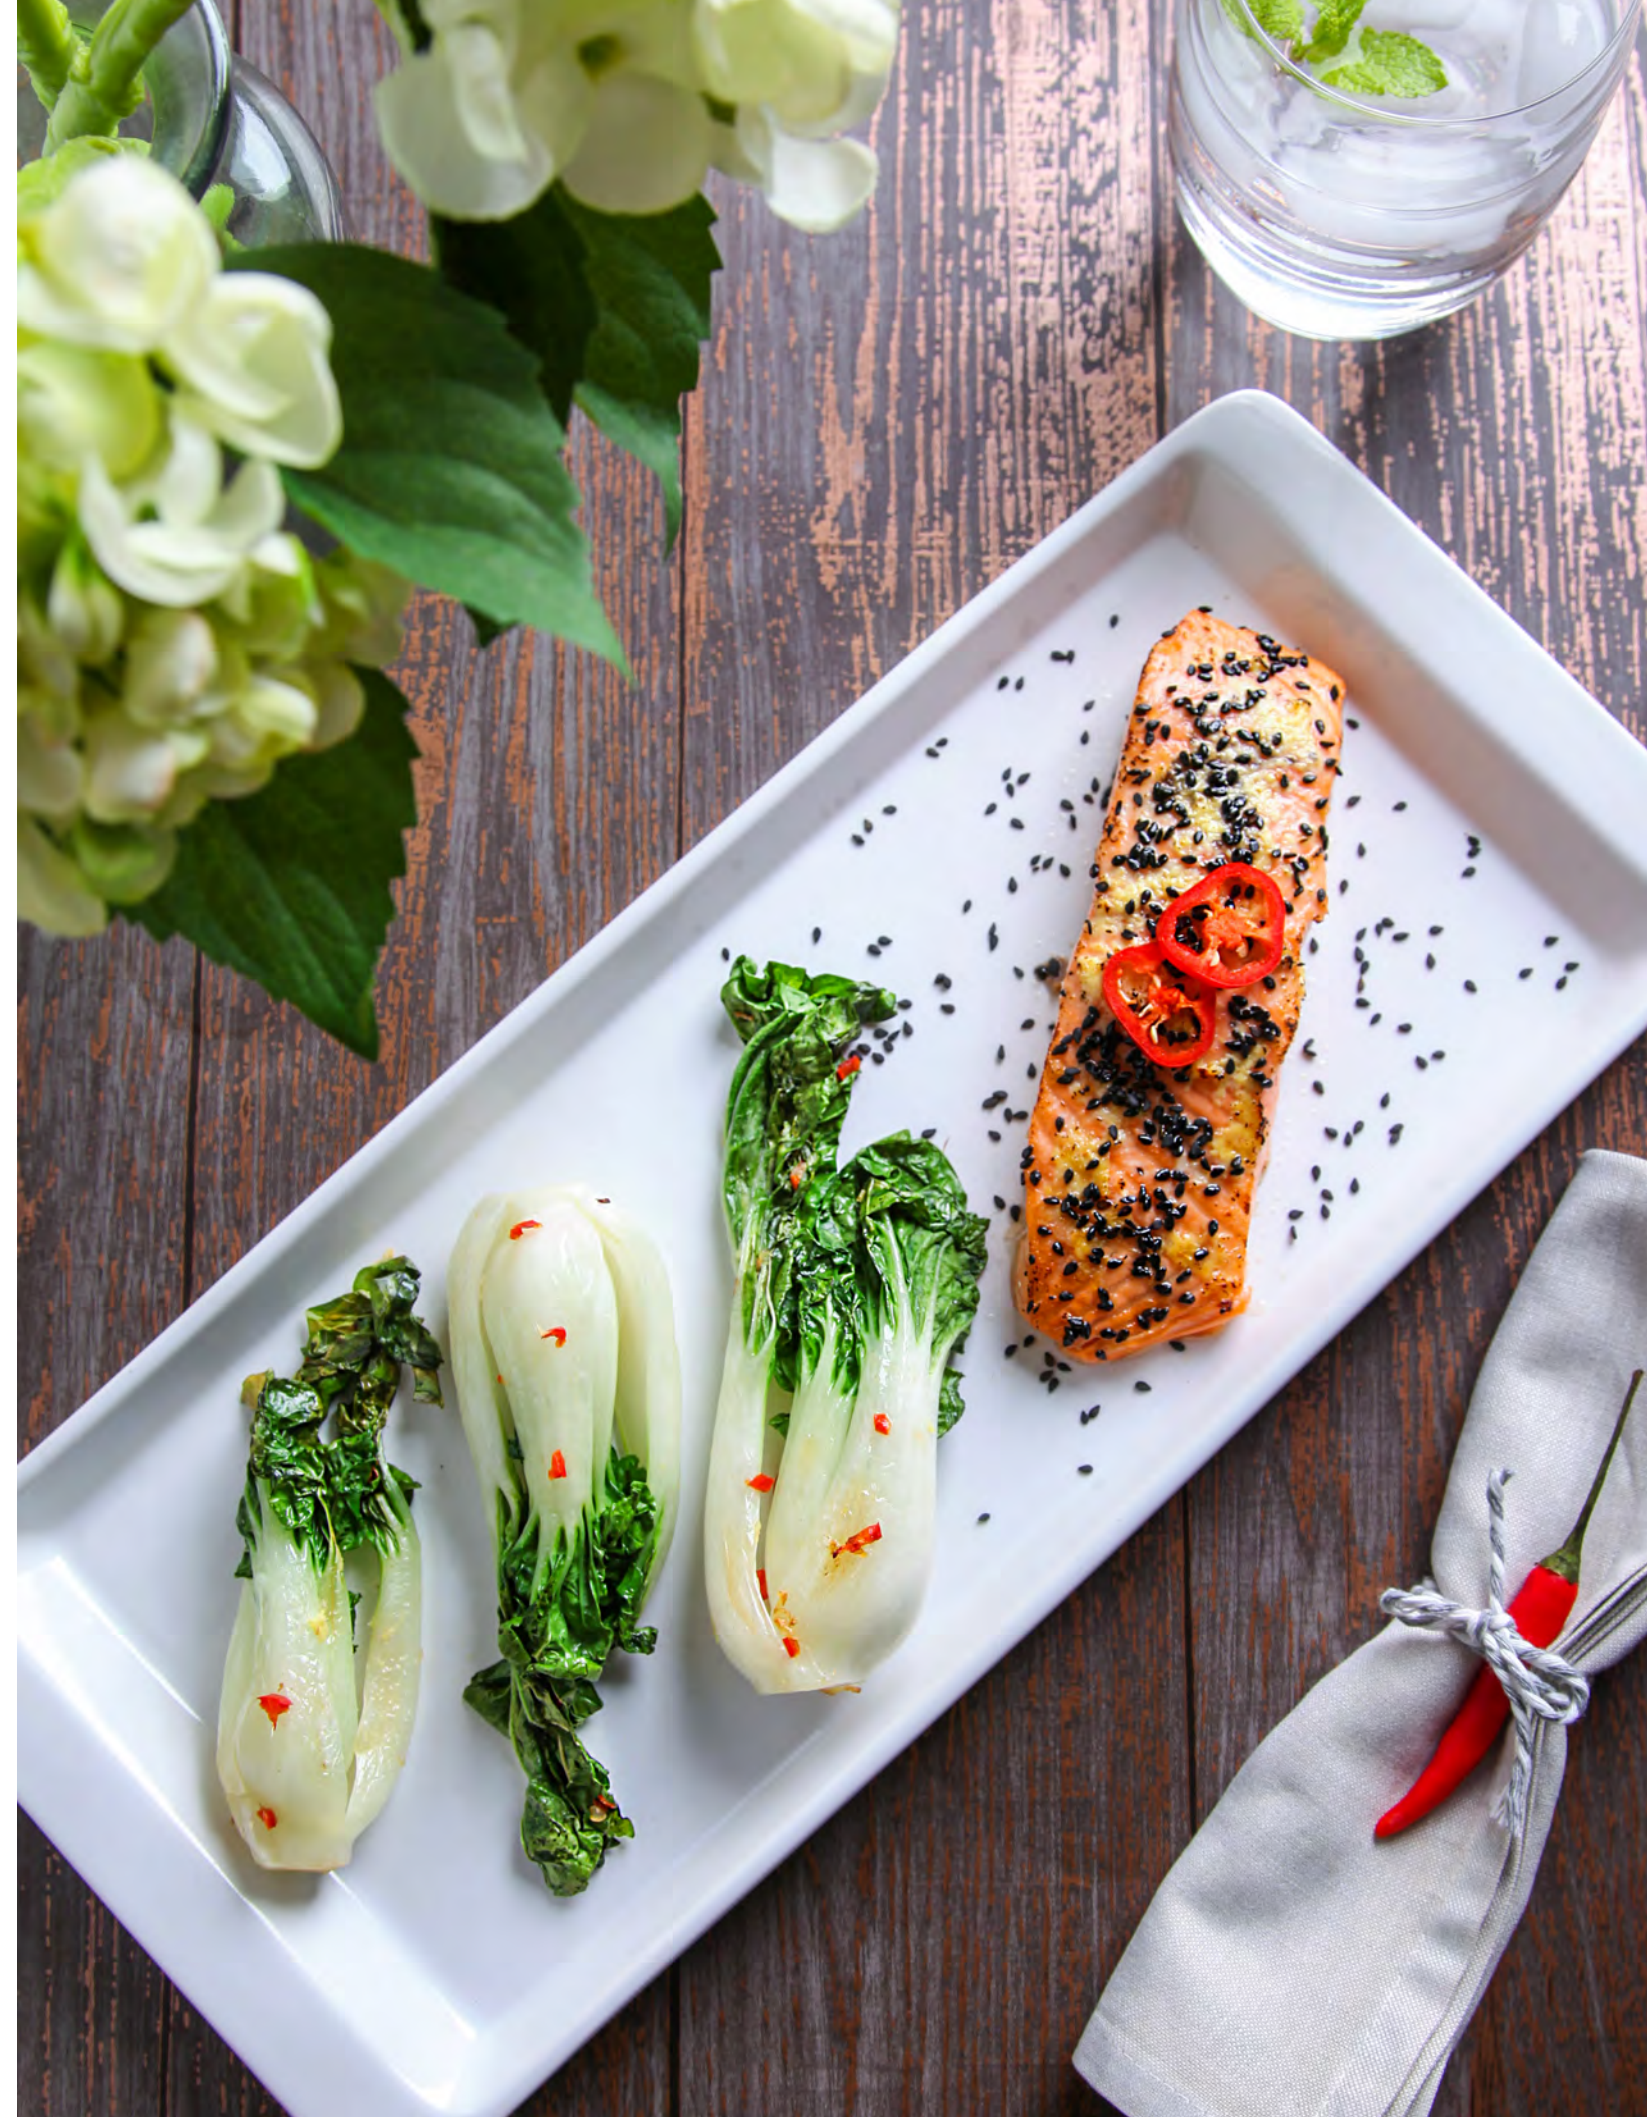

Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4).

First make the marinade. In a bowl, mix the garlic, ginger, and chilli together.

Coat the salmon with half the marinade mixture, sprinkle with black sesame seeds all over, and place on a non-stick baking tray. Cook in the oven for 15 minutes, or until cooked.

Coat the pak choi in the remaining marinade and, 5 minutes before the salmon is ready, heat the sesame oil in a non-stick pan. Add the pak choi to the pan and fry for 5 minutes.

Arrange the salmon and pak choi on a plate, and enjoy!

SALMON BAKE

Serves 4

Big on flavour, brimming with goodness. Baking salmon locks in omega-3s and essential nutrients, while roasted sweet potatoes, peppers, and onions add fibre and antioxidants. Whether it's for family dinner or meal prep, this dish is all about simplicity without compromise.

2 handful sweet potato, cubed
1 handful red pepper, sliced
1 handful red onion, sliced
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1 tbsp extra virgin olive oil
Salmon fillet, 4 x the size and thickness of your palm
Small palm, fresh parsley, finely chopped
1 lemon, sliced

METHOD

Preheat your oven to 200°C (180°C fan/400°F/Gas 6).

Cut the sweet potato into cubes and par boil for 10 mins. Once cooked, drain well of all water.

Slice the pepper, red onion and crush the garlic (so it just pops out of its skin) and put in a baking dish with the par boiled sweet potato.

Drizzle with the olive oil and place in the oven for 25 minutes.

After 25 minutes remove the tray of vegetables from the oven and place the salmon fillets on top of the vegetables.

Put back in the oven for a further 15 minutes, until the salmon is cooked through.

Once the salmon and vegetables are cooked through, take out of the oven and plate everything up into 4 equal portions and add some fresh parsley and a slice of lemon to serve. Enjoy with the family or save the rest for another time.

SMOKED TOFU PAELLA

Serves 4

Plant Powered Paella! Smoky paprika, earthy turmeric, and zesty lemon combine with protein-rich smoked tofu and bulgur wheat for a warming, spiced meal. Packed with fibre and anti-inflammatory benefits, it's a bold and nourishing way to shake up dinner. One of my favourites!

INGREDIENTS

3 garlic cloves, crushed
1 red onion, chopped finely
1 tbsp smoked paprika
1 tsp turmeric
4 tsp extra virgin olive oil
80g (½ cup) dry bulgur wheat dry weight (230g/1 cup cooked weight)
2 tsp tomato puree
½ tsp chilli flakes
½ tsp black pepper
2 handfuls frozen peas
Smoked tofu, 6 x size and thickness of your palm, diced
2 lemons – juice from one and other cut into wedges for garnish Handful fresh parsley, finely chopped

METHOD

Saute the garlic, onion, paprika and turmeric in the olive oil for 3 minutes.

Add the bulgur wheat, tomato puree, chilli flakes, black pepper and 500ml of boiling water and stir well.

Lower the heat and cook for 10 minutes, stirring every couple of minutes.

Add the peas and the smoked tofu – mix really well and cook for another 3 minutes, stirring continuously.

Add the lemon juice.

Portion into 4 bowls and garnish with the chopped parsley and lemon wedges. Enjoy!

STUFFED ROAST PEPPER

Serves 1

Peppers are full of vitamins C, E, and beta-carotene and roasting them creates such an incredible flavour. If you then stuff them, you can add even more flavour and extra nutrition too.

INGREDIENTS

1 red or yellow pepper
1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
½ red onion, finely chopped
1 garlic clove, finely chopped
1 tsp ground ginger
pinch of cumin seeds
1 tsp ground coriander
1 tsp tomato purée
400g (14oz) can of chickpeas, drained and rinsed handful of fresh, finely chopped coriander, plus an extra sprig to garnish
2 tsp sultanas
zest of 1 lime

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 200°C (180°C fan/400°F/Gas 6).

Prepare the pepper by slicing off the top (reserving it for later), and removing the seeds inside. Place the pepper on a baking tray and roast in the oven for 20 minutes.

Finely chop the top of the pepper and place in a non-stick pan with the olive oil, onion, and garlic. Cook, stirring, until soft and caramelized, then stir in the spices and cook until fragrant.

Add the tomato purée, chickpeas, coriander, and sultanas with 100ml (3½fl oz) of water. Bring to a boil, then reduce to a simmer, and cook for a further 5 minutes.

Place the roasted pepper on a plate and fill with the spiced chickpea mixture. Garnish with a scattering of coriander and lime zest, and enjoy!

SUPER SALMON SALAD

Serves 2

Freekeh is a type of nutrient-rich wholegrain that is made from young wheat and is integral to Middle Eastern and North African cuisine. It is similar to bulgur wheat or quinoa, which you could also use here, and has a lovely chewy, nutty texture and smoky flavour. Freekeh that is cracked is easier to cook but you could use any type – ready-cooked is the easiest of all!

INGREDIENTS

2 salmon fillets, the size and thickness of your palm 50g/1¾oz cracked freekeh (150g/5½oz cooked weight)
½ yellow pepper
½ small cucumber
8 cherry tomatoes, quartered
½ carrot, grated
1 avocado, chopped
freshly ground black pepper
squeeze of lemon
1 tbsp fresh, finely chopped coriander

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 200°C (180°C fan/400°F/Gas 6) and line a baking tray with parchment paper.

Place the salmon on the prepared tray and cook for 15–20 minutes, according to your preferences. Meanwhile, cook the freekeh according to the packet instructions.

Place the pepper, cucumber, tomatoes, carrot, and avocado in a bowl. When the freekeh is cooked, fluff it up with a fork and then add to the salad ingredients. Flake the cooked salmon into the bowl and toss everything together.

Season with black pepper and a squeeze of lemon, toss again, and then garnish with fresh coriander.

SWEET AND SOUR

Serves 2

This is another healthy spin on a takeaway favourite that contains all the popular piquant flavours but none of the nasties. Just what you need on a weekend night – quick, fresh, wholesome food with tons of flavour.

handful of chopped pineapple
1 thumb-sized piece of fresh ginger root
½ small red chilli, chopped
2 garlic cloves, chopped
1 tomato, chopped
1 tsp tomato purée
1 stick of lemongrass handful of fresh, finely chopped coriander
juice of ½ lime
2 lime leaves
vegan chicken pieces, 3 x the size and thickness of your palm handful of chopped red or green pepper handful of chopped red onion
12 cashew nuts
50g (1¾oz) quinoa (150g/5½oz cooked weight)
1 spring onion, finely sliced wedge of lime, to serve

METHOD

Start by making the sweet and sour sauce. In a blender, add the pineapple, ginger, red chilli, garlic, tomato, and tomato purée with 200ml (scant 7fl oz) water. Blitz to a smooth consistency.

Transfer the sauce to a medium saucepan. Give the lemongrass stick a good bash to release its flavour and then add to the pan with the coriander, lime juice, and lime leaves. Bring to the boil, then reduce the heat and simmer for 5 minutes.

Add the vegan chicken, pepper, and onion to the pan and simmer for 10 minutes to allow the vegetables to soften.

Now toast the cashew nuts. Place a dry pan over a low heat and gently toast the cashews for 2–3 minutes until golden.

Bring a saucepan of water to the boil and cook the quinoa according to the packet instructions, then drain.

Divide the cooked quinoa between serving bowls and top with the sweet and sour chicken. Garnish with a scattering of spring onion and toasted cashews and serve with a wedge of lime.

SWEET POTATO JACKET WITH CORONATION CHICKEN

Serves 1

Feast like royalty! This Coronation Chicken recipe is a breeze to make and is the perfect topping for your sweet potato jacket – a tasty, quick, and easy mid-week supper!

INGREDIENTS

1 sweet potato, the size of your hand

1 chicken breast, the size and thickness of your palm

finely chopped coriander, to garnish

FOR THE CORONATION SAUCE

½ tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt

½ tsp curry powder

¼ tsp ground cinnamon

pinch of white pepper

2 tsp flaked almonds, crushed

2 tsp sultanas

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 200°C (180°C fan/400°F/Gas 6).

Place the sweet potato on an oven tray and bake in the oven for 40 minutes or until crispy on the outside and soft in the middle.

Meanwhile, poach the chicken for the filling. Place the chicken breast in a non-stick saucepan and cover with plenty of water. Bring to the boil, then reduce the heat to a simmer, and poach for 15–20 minutes, until the chicken is cooked through.

Now make the creamy Coronation sauce. In a bowl, place the yogurt, curry powder, cinnamon, white pepper, almonds, and sultanas, and mix together thoroughly. Slice the chicken into bite-sized pieces and turn in the sauce until coated.

Your potato should now be crispy on the outside and fluffy on the inside. Arrange on a plate, slice across the top lengthways and pinch until it opens up to receive the delicious filling. Spoon the Coronation chicken on top and garnish with the coriander.

SWEET POTATO KORMA

Serves 2

This vegan curry is a delicate, creamy, and nutty delight. Serving it with buckwheat instead of white rice really raises the bar nutritionally and the poppy seeds and almonds provide even more healthy fats, fibre, and essential nutrients, along with a welcome crunch.

INGREDIENTS

1 tsp rapeseed oil
½ white onion, finely chopped
1 green chilli, finely chopped
1 tsp cumin
½ tsp turmeric
1 cardamom pod, bashed
½ thumb-sized piece of ginger, finely chopped
1 garlic clove, finely chopped
handful of diced sweet potato vegan chicken pieces, 3 x the size and thickness of your palm
2 tsp tomato purée
50g (1¾oz) dry buckwheat (120g/4¼oz cooked weight)
1 tsp poppy seeds
small handful of fresh, finely chopped coriander
1 tbsp flaked almonds
1 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt

METHOD

Warm the rapeseed oil in a medium saucepan over a medium heat and gently fry the onion with the green chilli and dry spices for around 3 minutes. Add the ginger and garlic and fry for a further minute so they release their flavours.

Add the sweet potato, vegan chicken, and tomato purée along with 400ml (14fl oz) of water and bring to a boil. Once boiling, reduce to a simmer, and cook for 10 minutes or until the sweet potato is cooked through.

Meanwhile, prepare the buckwheat as per the packet instructions, then strain and place in a mixing bowl. Add the poppy seeds and half the chopped coriander and stir thoroughly, then cover and set aside.

In a frying pan over a medium heat, dry-fry the flaked almonds for 2 minutes until they are nicely toasted and golden. Set aside.

Once the sweet potato is cooked through, take the pan off the heat and stir through the yogurt.

To serve, divide the buckwheat between two bowls, spoon over the korma and garnish with the remaining chopped coriander and toasted almonds.

TASTY TUNA BITES

Serves 3

Fuel your day with these protein-packed bites. High in B12 and omega-3s, these tuna patties are baked to perfection and served with peppery rocket for a fresh, energising boost to help you power through the day.

INGREDIENTS

Canned tuna in spring water, 2 x the size and thickness of your palm

3 eggs

2 spring onions, finely sliced

1 red pepper, finely chopped

3 tsp sweetcorn

3 tsp extra virgin olive oil

Handful of rocket/mixed salad

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4).

Drain the tuna from the cans.

In a bowl beat the eggs and add in the tuna.

Add the spring onion, red pepper and sweetcorn to the bowl, mix well and form 6 pattie sized balls (2 balls per serving).

Place onto an oven proof dish lined with baking paper and cook for 20 minutes.

Turn half way to ensure cooked all the way through.

Once cooked, serve on a bed of rocket leaves and drizzle a teaspoon of olive oil per serving. Enjoy!

TOFU ARRABIATA

Serves 2

Arrabiata or spicy tomato sauce to you and me, is utterly delicious and a great way to get those antioxidants from the tomatoes into your body! This simple plant-based dish has a kick of heat and plenty of flavour!

INGREDIENTS

1 large courgette
2 tsp extra virgin olive oil
1 red onion
1 red chilli, chopped finely
2 garlic cloves, crushed
½ tin of chopped tomatoes (200g)
2 tsp tomato purée
6 cherry tomatoes, quartered
1 tsp Italian mixed herbs
12 fresh basil leaves chopped (saving 1 for garnish)
3 palm size and thickness amounts of firm tofu
Black pepper to season

METHOD

Spiralise your courgette and place to one side while you make your delicious Arrabiata sauce.

Heat your extra virgin olive oil in your non-stick pan or wok and add your onion, chilli and garlic on a medium heat or until soft.

Add in your chopped tomatoes, tomato purée, cherry tomatoes, mixed herbs and fresh basil. Simmer for 5 minutes.

Crumble in your tofu, keep it quite chunky and fold into the sauce to heat through.

Dry fry your courgetti in a non-stick pan stirring continuously for around 1-2 minutes or until softened.

Toss your courgetti into your sauce and mix it all together.

Serve in your favourite bowl seasoned with black pepper and a little sprig of basil.

TOFU STUFFED MUSHROOMS

Serves 1

INGREDIENTS

2 medium size flat mushrooms
Cracked black pepper
1 ½ palm size and thickness amounts of soft silken tofu, roughly chopped
2 spring onions, sliced
1 tsp garlic powder
1 tsp dried tarragon
1 tsp dried thyme
4 cherry tomatoes, cut in half
Pinch of chilli flakes
2 tsp toasted flaked almonds
Rocket leaves to garnish

METHOD

Preheat your oven to 180°C.

Peel your flat mushrooms, season with cracked black pepper and place on a baking tray.

For your filling, place your chopped tofu, spring onions, garlic powder, tarragon and thyme in a mixing bowl and mix well.

Now generously fill your mushrooms with the tofu mix and top each mushroom with 4 halves of cherry tomato, season with more black pepper and pinch of chilli flakes.

Bake in the oven for 10 minutes.

Garnish with flaked almonds and rocket leaves.

TOM YUM FRAGRANT CHICKEN SOUP

Serves 2

Fresh and fragrant, Thai soups range from rich, creamy coconut to hot clear broths. Besides being the most famous of all Thai soups, tom yum offers many health benefits due to its potent combination of herbs and spices. Truly delicious, this easy soup has the desired punch in both flavour and nutritional value.

INGREDIENTS

2 tsp coconut oil
½ white onion chopped
½ fennel bulb
½ celery stalk, chopped
1 small courgette (zucchini), chopped small handful of green beans, chopped
1 tsp fennel seeds
1 bay leaf
1 lemongrass stalk, bashed to release its flavour
1 fresh red chilli (deseeded if you do not like it too hot)
1 tsp curry leaves
1 star anise
1 garlic clove, crushed
2 chicken breasts, the size and thickness of your palm, cut into cubes juice and zest of 1 lemon juice and zest of 1 lime
handful of fresh, chopped coriander (cilantro)

METHOD

In a medium to large non-stick pan, heat the coconut oil and stir-fry all the ingredients apart from the chicken, coriander, lemon, and lime for around 8 minutes.

Add the chicken, lemon, and lime zest to the pan and stir-fry until the chicken is sealed.

Cover the ingredients of the pan with boiling water and simmer for 20–30 minutes.

When you have 5 minutes left, add the lemon and lime juice and stir well.

Serve in bowls and garnish with some fresh coriander.

TUNA AND BUTTERBEAN SALAD

Serves 2

Once again, a simple yet delicious salad that is filling, fresh and bursting with flavour!
This is a favourite of Mrs H!

INGREDIENTS

Palm size and thickness amount of tinned tuna in spring water, drained

Tin of butterbeans, drained and rinsed (400g)

6 cherry tomatoes,
quartered

1 small red onion or half a red onion sliced

Handful of cucumber, finely chopped

Small handful of chopped parsley

Rocket leaves to garnish

Black pepper to season

Dressing

2 tsp extra virgin olive oil

Juice of half a lemon

¼ garlic clove crushed

Small pinch of chilli flakes

Black pepper to season

METHOD

This salad takes around 5 minutes to prepare.

For the dressing, mix all the ingredients in a small bowl or jug.

Next, mix all of your salad ingredients together and season with black pepper.

Pour the dressing over your bowl of salad to your liking and serve with a handful of rocket leaves!

TUNA AND POMEGRANATE SALAD WITH A RASPBERRY AND HERB DRESSING

Serves 1

You may think that tuna with the sweetness of the pomegranate is a strange combination, however, give it a try. This salad is surprisingly tasty and the combination of lean fish, fruit, and vegetables is super healthy.

INGREDIENTS

large combined handful of salad to include: mixed green salad leaves, green beans, spring (green) onion, and courgette (zucchini) ribbons

1 tbsp pomegranate seeds

canned tuna in spring water, the size and thickness of your palm, drained

FOR THE DRESSING

6 raspberries

1 tsp extra virgin olive oil

pinch of dried mixed herbs

pinch of chilli flakes

METHOD

Begin by making the green salad. In a bowl, mix together the green salad leaves, green beans, spring onion, and courgette ribbons. Then add the pomegranate seeds and mix evenly through the salad. Finally, add the tuna, breaking it into large flakes.

Now make the dressing. Take the raspberries and mush through a sieve or strainer with the back of a teaspoon, extracting all the juice out of the raspberries, just leaving the pips.

Combine the olive oil, mixed herbs, chilli flakes, and raspberry juice in a small dish or jar and stir well.

Drizzle the dressing over the tuna salad and serve.

TURKEY BOLOGNESE

Serves 2

This is how you make a traditional spaghetti Bolognese healthier by cooking with a leaner protein (turkey) and swapping out the carb-heavy pasta for nutrient-rich courgetti.

INGREDIENTS

1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
1 red or yellow pepper, finely chopped
1 small red onion, finely chopped
2 garlic cloves, finely chopped
lean turkey mince, 2 x the size and thickness of your palm 6 olives, finely chopped
½ tsp white pepper
1 tsp mixed Italian herbs
12 fresh basil leaves, chopped, plus a sprig to garnish
1 tbsp tomato purée
400g (14oz) can of chopped tomatoes
1 courgette, spiralized

METHOD

Heat the olive oil in a non-stick pan over a moderate heat and fry the pepper and onion until softened. Turn down the heat and gently fry the garlic, stirring to ensure it doesn't catch and burn.

Add the turkey mince, olives, white pepper, Italian herbs, basil leaves, and tomato purée and cook until the turkey has browned.

Add the tomatoes, stir to combine and bring to the boil, then reduce the heat and simmer for 20 minutes.

In a non-stick frying pan over a low heat, dry-fry the spiralized courgetti for around 1–2 minutes or until it softens.

Heap a pile of courgetti in a pasta bowl, spoon the turkey Bolognese on top, and garnish with a sprig of fresh basil.

TUSCAN STEW WITH CHICKPEA AND KALE

Serves 2

This easy-to-make hearty bean stew is packed with the flavours of Tuscany. It is so warm and nourishing, with the added benefit of a vitamin hit courtesy of the kale and antioxidant-rich olives.

INGREDIENTS

1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
½ combined handful of sliced carrot, celery, and red onion
4 garlic cloves, roughly chopped
1 tsp smoked paprika
1 tsp ground cumin
1 tsp dried thyme
1 tsp fresh, chopped rosemary
½ tsp ground white pepper
1 tsp tomato paste
2 x 400g (14oz) cans of chickpeas, drained and rinsed
½ can (200g/7oz) of chopped tomatoes
1 bay leaf
handful of chopped kale (stalks removed)
6 pitted green or black olives, sliced

TO SERVE

juice of ½ lemon
a few fresh, chopped flat-leaf parsley leaves lemon wedge

METHOD

Heat the olive oil in a pan and gently fry the carrot, celery, onion, garlic, spices and herbs (excluding the bay leaf) over a low heat for 5 minutes. Add the white pepper and tomato paste and cook for a further minute.

Now add the chickpeas, 500ml (generous 2 cups) of water, the chopped tomatoes, and bay leaf. Turn up the heat and bring to the boil, then simmer for 10 minutes. Remove the pan from the heat and leave to cool for a few minutes.

Remove the bay leaf and transfer half the stew to a blender and blitz for 1 minute. Open the blender (with caution!) and return the blended mixture to the rest of the stew in the pan.

Put the pan back over a medium heat, add the kale and olives, bring to the boil before serving. Ladle the stew into two large bowls, stir in the lemon juice and garnish with some freshly chopped parsley and a wedge of lemon.

VEGAN ALOO KEEMA

Serves 2

I've given this classic Indian recipe a special vegan makeover. Sweet potato for the aloo enhances the spices and gives this flavourful dish a health kick of vitamins, including vitamins C and B6, which are vital for your brain and nervous system.

handful of sweet potato, peeled and cut into cubes

2 tsp coconut oil

½ small red onion, finely chopped

2 tsp grated fresh ginger root

1 garlic clove, crushed

1 fresh green chilli, finely chopped

Quorn or soya mince, 3 x the size and thickness of your palm

½ can (200g) of chopped tomatoes

1 tsp garam masala

1 tsp ground cumin

½ tsp ground coriander

handful of frozen peas

2 tbsp fresh, chopped coriander (cilantro), plus a little extra to garnish

METHOD

Bring a pot of water to the boil and cook the sweet potatoes for 15–20 minutes until soft.

Meanwhile, place a non-stick pan over a medium heat. Add the onion and fry until softened, then add the ginger, garlic, and chilli and cook on a medium heat for a couple of minutes.

Now add the Quorn or soya mince, chopped tomatoes, spices, peas, and a good splash of water, and stir thoroughly. Cook on a medium to low heat for approximately 10 minutes.

Add the potatoes and fresh coriander and mix together gently.

When it's all piping hot, serve it in your favourite bowls, and enjoy.

VEGAN CHICKEN SHAWARMA

Serves 1

INGREDIENTS

1½ palm size and thickness amounts of vegan chicken

Juice of half a lemon

¼ tsp ground cumin

¼ tsp turmeric

¼ tsp ground coriander

¼ tsp paprika

¼ tsp cayenne pepper

Pinch of cinnamon

1 teaspoon of coconut oil

A few slices of red onion separated

A few slices of cucumber

A few lettuce leaves

1 tomato sliced

1 wholemeal pitta bread or wrap

FOR THE TZATZIKI

1 tbsp full-fat Greek yogurt
OR Greek-style soya-based vegan yogurt

½ cucumber, grated

½ bunch of fresh, chopped mint (stalks removed)

1 sprig fresh, chopped dill

1 or 2 garlic cloves, crushed

½ lemon, squeezed

freshly ground black pepper

METHOD

In a small bowl mix the vegan chicken, lemon juice and spices, making sure everything is well coated. This can be made in advance and left overnight in the fridge if you wish but not necessary.

In a pan, heat the coconut oil and add the marinated ingredients.

Fry on a medium heat for approximately 5 minutes.

Prepare the Tzatziki by combining all the ingredients in a bowl.

Now fill your pitta with the vegan chicken, onions, cucumber, lettuce, tomato and the Tzatziki.

Enjoy!

VEGAN ‘FISH CAKES’ WITH GARLIC MAYO

Serves 1

Who needs fish for a fish cake when edible seaweed can provide that authentic, salty taste of the sea? And you must make it a proper affair by serving it with the delicious plantbased garlic mayo.

handful of chopped sweet potato

400g (14oz) can of butter beans, rinsed and drained

1 garlic clove, crushed

1 shallot

1 heaped tsp finely chopped flat-leaf parsley, plus an extra sprig to garnish

1 red chilli (deseeded if you don't like too much heat)

½ tsp paprika

½ tsp mixed herbs

½ sheet of nori

2 tsp extra virgin olive oil

pinch of white pepper

FOR THE MAYONNAISE

300g (10oz) soft silken tofu

1–2 garlic cloves, crushed

½ tsp mustard powder

squeeze of lemon juice

splash of unsweetened soya milk or pea milk

TO SERVE

handful of salad leaves

½ red onion, finely sliced

wedge of lemon

METHOD

Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan/350°F/Gas 4) and line a baking sheet with foil or parchment paper.

Bring a pan of water to the boil and cook the sweet potato for around 20 minutes or until soft. When cooked, mash thoroughly until smooth, then set aside to cool.

Now make the plant-based mayonnaise. Simply place all the ingredients in a blender and blitz until smooth. While the potato is cooling, you can also prepare the rest of the filling.

In a food processor, place the butter beans, garlic, shallot, parsley, chilli, paprika, mixed herbs, nori, olive oil, and white pepper and blend to a coarse mix. Add the cooled sweet potato mash to the food processor and combine thoroughly, until ready to make into patties.

Now for the fun part. Divide the mixture into four and shape into equal-sized patties. Place the fish cakes on the prepared tray and bake in the oven for approximately 20 minutes, turning halfway through.

Arrange two fish cakes on each plate on a bed of salad leaves and scatter over the sliced onion and parsley. Serve with a wedge of lemon and a tablespoon of delicious, homemade, plant-based garlic mayo.

VIBRANT VEGAN PLATE

Serves 2

Let me just point out you don't have to be a vegan to enjoy this wonderful, flavoursome dish! Combining the softness of the tofu with the vibrant mango and gentle spices is a truly successful and super healthy creation! Plus, it's a stir fry so it is ready to enjoy in approximately 10 minutes - bonus!

INGREDIENTS

½ a red pepper, chopped
½ a green pepper, chopped
2 spring onions, finely chopped
3 palm size and thickness amounts of firm tofu, cut into small cubes
1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
½ tsp fennel seeds
½ tsp garam masala
Pinch of chilli flakes
4 cherry tomatoes, quartered
½ a fresh mango, cut into small cubes
½ an avocado, cut into small cubes
1 tbsp fresh chopped coriander

METHOD

Start by stir frying your peppers, spring onions and tofu in your extra virgin olive oil on a moderate heat for 6-8 minutes.

Add in your spices; fennel, garam masala and chilli flakes and mix everything really well. You want your tofu coated in the lovely spices.

Now add the cherry tomatoes, cover your pan and let simmer on a low heat for another 3-5 minutes.
